Ike's Integrity Impresses Nation, GOP Audience Told

REUNION—Ed Moser of Washington C. H., is shown above (left) with his fraternity brother and former roommate at Purdue University, Earl L. Butz, assistant secretary of agriculture. Butz spoke at a dinner meeting of the Fayette County Republican Women's Club in the Washington Country Club Tuesday night. Moser was a sophomore and Butz a senior when they roomed together at Purdue in 1932. When this photo was snapped Moser was explaining to Butz his interest in the campaign he is heading here in behalf of the renewal of the .2 of a mill levy for maintenance of the Fayette County Department of Health.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his advisors are "dedicated men — men who place integrity above expediency". Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz told an audience of 250 at a dinner meeting, sponsored by the Fayette County Republican Women's Club, at the Country Club Monday night.

An administrative aide to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, Butz is among the nation's top experts in agricultural economics.

The speaker, who was introduced by Master of Ceremonies Ray Brandenburg, urged that Americans rededicate themselves to the principles of honesty and integrity as exemplified by the president. "The value of these simple virtues are eternal," he said.

And in closing an address which reviewed the accomplishments of the Eisenhower administration, with emphasis on a "sound" approach to the nation's problems, Butz outlined a "challenge of good government" in the following questions:

(1) WHAT ROLE do we want government to play in our lives: do we want government as a "junior" or a "senior" partner and shall government serve us or shall we serve government?

(2) Do we want a land of freedom and opportunity and equality, and do we want equality "at the start" or equality "at the finish line"? do we want to bring everybody down to one level, eliminating incentive, or do we want to preserve individual initiative?

(3) Do we want a land of peace and prosperity, led by dedicated men of good will or do we want a government of expediency guided by personal ambition?

role taken by the state patrol in reopening the exchange.

One man was injured when hit in the head with a brick.

Capt. G. A. Unkle, state highway patrolman in charge, said his men had no jurisdiction and could not interfere with the crowd. Unkle said he too was hit on the head with a brick but that he was not hurt.

The first outbreak occurred at the nearby New Boston exchange of the struck Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. It spread to the Portsmouth exchange and the nearby Sciotoville exchange.

The company then closed all exchanges in Scioto County, after police evacuated some 50 company personnel and took them to Columbus. The county was without phone service for the second time in four days.

Unkle said the crowd, which he estimated at 500, converged on the New Boston exchange about 11 p. m. after assembling throughout the afternoon.

HE SAID THE crowd was joined by steelworkers from the Portsmouth division of Detroit Steel Corp.

The crowd threw rocks and beer bottles at the exchange and also telephones which they had taken from their homes and business places. The phones were smashed against the exchange building wall and on the street, and piled up on the steps to the exchange.

Unkle said he called Fred Brown, New Boston police chief, and quoted Brown as saying, "I was runnerup in the Miss T. S. A. contest, but two seconds don't make one first."

Without phone service, the same air of uneasy apprehension hangs over the city as in the days of flood emergencies.

Emergency communications are maintained through short-wave radio systems of the sheriff's office and the State Highway Patrol. Cab company radios and amateur radio operators also help fill the communications gap for any crisis.

But normal business communication, social calls and cupid are taking a beating.

Romance is languishing sadly, the bobby-sox set complains. "Some of the boys make their dates at school, but some of them don't bother to make dates at all," some of the young ladies in the drug store crowd lament.

A businessman who wants to close even a minor deal with a customer must walk down the street for a face-to-face meeting.

Adlai Says Ike Ignores Chance In Peace Field

'Deadly Deadlock' With Russia Said now Being Brushed Aside

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says President Eisenhower is brushing aside a chance to end the "deadly deadlock" with Russia in a hydrogen bomb race that may destroy the world.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, defended in a nationally televised campaign speech from Chicago Monday night his proposal that America take the lead in efforts to end H-bomb tests which he said may do the human race "unmeasured damage."

Directly contradicting President Eisenhower on several points, Stevenson said that "most disturbing" to him was Eisenhower's comment at last week's White House news conference he had used the "last word" on his position that such tests cannot be abandoned because Russia might not honor any agreement.

"We cannot brush the hydrogen bomb under the rug," Stevenson said, adding that "the search for peace will not end, it will begin, with the halting of these tests. What we will accomplish is a new beginning and the world needs nothing so much as a new beginning."

HE PLEDGED that if he is elected President he would "count it about the first order of business" to get together with Russia and Britain on banning further explosions of nuclear superweapons.

Both Britain and Russia, he added, "have declared their willingness to us in trying to establish the kind of policy I have suggested."

Asserting that disarmament had been stalemated for 11 years because the Russians "will not agree to let us inspect them" and "we cannot agree to disarm unless we can inspect them," Stevenson declared:

"Yet if we are going to make any progress we must find means of breaking out of this deadly deadlock. We must come forward with proposals which will bear witness to our desire to move forward and not away from disarmament."

Nixon Readies Reply to Adlai On Bomb Issue

YOUNGSTOWN (AP)—Vice President Nixon, seeking to refute what he calls "misstatements of fact" by Adlai Stevenson, worked today on a reply to Stevenson's proposals for international negotiations to stop H-bomb tests.

The Democratic nominee said Monday night that if he were elected President he would promptly follow up what he termed an "opportunity" presented by Britain and Russia to discuss a halt in testing the big nuclear weapons.

Nixon's campaign, aimed at areas which Republicans consider in need of special vote-seeking effort, swings across part of Indiana today and to Buffalo, N. Y., for a major address tonight.

Nixon bluntly disagreed with Stevenson Monday on economic matters. Following a grueling schedule of talks in industrial glass and steel centers in Ohio, Nixon repeatedly said that American labor never had it so good as under President Eisenhower's administration.

He said in Toledo that if anyone questioned Eisenhower's integrity and desire to improve the living conditions of Americans, "he is engaging in low-road campaigning in the worst Harry Truman tradition." And in steel-producing Youngstown, Nixon said Stevenson "sounds more and more like Harry Truman."

13 Homes Damaged Near Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A quick spreading fire badly damaged 13 of 21 houses in a tightly packed row early today in the Garfield Section about three miles from downtown Pittsburgh.

Approximately 100 persons were evacuated before the flames were brought under control.

No one was reported injured in the blaze. A crippled woman was one of the first evacuated and she was treated for shock.

The cause of the fire could not be immediately determined but firemen said that an explosion occurred in the house where the fire started.

News in Brief

Reds Say Aides Halt Airliner's Freedom Trip

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Hungary's Communist government says two of its secret policemen foiled an attempt by four heavily armed men to seize a Hungarian airliner in flight and head it to West Germany.

In a bloody fight above the clouds, the police officers shot one of the plotters dead and wounded another. The other two surrendered, the Hungarian Interior Ministry said.

The ministry gave this account of the incident:

Police arrested a confederate of the four and learned of the plot shortly before the plane left Budapest Airport yesterday. The aircraft, bound for the Hungarian town of Zalaegerszeg, stopped at Szombathely en route and two armed plainclothesmen got on board.

The policemen opened fire when the four, brandishing submachine-guns, pistols and other weapons, tried to force the pilot to change course.

The plane returned to Szombathely.

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The Polish Communist party announced today that Wladyslaw Gomulka, its former leader jailed for seven years as a Titoist, will rejoin the party's Central Committee Friday.

Gomulka, who was arrested in 1948 at the height of the Kremlin's split with Yugoslav President Tito, is expected to take high offices in both the party and in the Polish government.

His return to high office had been widely expected as a move by the Polish Communists to have the support of nationalist-minded Communists anxious to pursue a course independent of Moscow.

HONG KONG (AP)—Peiping radio claimed today that more than 160 persons died in the three days of rioting and factional fighting that wracked Hong Kong's mainland territory last week.

The Hong Kong government has officially set the death toll at 51. The government information office said after the Peiping broadcast it saw "no reason to change this figure."

SEOUL (AP)—The boss of the U.S. Marines declared today he has no intention of lifting his service's ban against its members' having their families with them overseas.

But Gen. Randolph Pate, the Marine commandant, said he had no objections to Marine dependents who went to Japan as "private visitors."

Pate is on a world wide tour of Marine posts.

TSU, Japan (AP)—The death of two young students today raised to 38 the toll in the collision Monday night of a speeding express train and a local carrying high school boys and girls on a holiday.

Twenty-three of the dead and 20 of the 35 injured were among the 99 students from two high schools on an excursion to Ise shrine.

LONDON (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh's barber reported today his royal customer is rapidly losing his hair.

The barber, 72-year-old Charles Topper, told a newsman: "The rate of the duke's fall-out has accelerated tremendously in the last three months. But we're not doing anything about it."

"The duke is well aware that he is balding. But he feels that it's a matter of fate."

Topper, who has been barbering customers from Buckingham Palace for 35 years, charges the Queen's 35-year-old husband 3 shillings (42 cents) for what the British call "a short-back-and-sides."

He wouldn't say what kind of tip he gets.

Citizens Committee Possibility To Guide City Board Spending

Taking into consideration a taxpayers' suit requesting formation of a Citizens Committee, now pending in Probate Court, the Washington C. H. Board of Education restated its policy regarding its $645,000 building bond issue proposal in a resolution at a regular meeting Monday night:

"That the Washington C. H. City Board of Education agrees that if a Citizens Committee, as provided for in revised section 3311.30, is declared necessary by the court, the Washington C. H. Board of Education will issue only those bonds, provided for in the current bond issue proposal, for the construction of the most urgent part of the over all building program, and that it will withhold issuance of the remainder of the bonds until the Citizens Committee makes its recommendations. The City Board of Education has the legal power to withhold the issuance of the bonds approved by the electorate for a period of not to exceed five years."

The board had agreed on this policy informally at its last meeting and members of the board had explained it at several Parent-Teacher Assn. meetings they have addressed.

Before the resolution was passed, Board Member Elmer Reed said: "we don't want to go into this campaign (for the bond issue and 2.5-mill operating levy) with tongue in cheek or withholding any pertinent information facts from the people. We want to give them the whole picture."

OTHER MEMBERS of the board, President Robert Terhune, W. A. Lovell, Charles Pensyl and Milbourne Flee, did not elaborate, but nodded in agreement.

U. S. Expects Tito To Give Data on Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito must give a satisfactory explanation of his confidential talks with Russian leaders before he can get promised American jet warplanes.

President Eisenhower made this clear Monday night in authorizing only limited military aid to Yugoslavia "until the situation can be more accurately appraised during the days to come."

Eisenhower specifically banned delivery, for the present at least, of more than 200 American Sabre Jet and Thunderjet fighters, previously earmarked for Yugoslavia along with howitzers, tanks and other heavy military equipment.

At the same time, he declared Tito's government eligible for full economic aid which has helped prop up Yugoslavia since it broke with Moscow in 1948. But he qualified even this by noting pointedly this decision would be reviewed constantly to make certain it "remains justified in future circumstances."

Diplomatic officials, commenting on the White House ruling, said it served notice on Tito to hurry up with a first-hand report to American officials on his somewhat mysterious diplomatic maneuverings in Eastern Europe during the last month.

The most important explanation sought, they agreed, involves two weeks of secret talks Tito held with Soviet Communist chief Nikita Khrushchev and other Russian bosses.

The question of the U. S. position was raised at a news conference in connection with reports of impending Iraqi troop movements into Jordan and consequent Israeli nervousness about possible new fighting in the area.

Syrian arms, which Dulles said could be Soviet or Western in origin, are already moving into Jordan.

Arab sources have said — and American officials support the explanation — that Jordan asked Iraqi troops to stabilize the government of King Hussein against collapse.

Israel took the position however that entry of Iraqi troops would violate the 1949 Palestine Armistice and could lead to war.

Meanwhile, reports in Jerusalem that Iraqi troops would not move

Coast Guard Rescues 31 Aboard Ship

Pan-Am Stratocruiser, With 2 Engines Faulty, Set Down by Pilot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A big Pan American Stratocruiser with two engines in trouble, ditched in the Pacific Ocean today and the Coast Guard quickly rescued all 31 survivors.

The plane, en route from Honolulu to San Francisco, broke in half upon hitting the water. She ditched about midway between Honolulu and San Francisco.

Six women and three children were among the passengers.

Pilot Richard Ogg had circled the big plane over the USS Pontchartrain, a Coast Guard weather ship for more than three hours before alighting on the ocean.

From San Francisco a seaplane arranged to leave with a rescue doctor aboard. The Coast Guard said it would take the plane about six hours to reach the scene.

Pilot Ogg had awaited for daylight to set his plane down on a rather quiet sea.

The big Stratocruiser, en route from Honolulu to San Francisco "ditched at 8:16 a. m. (PST) and upon contact broke in half," a message from the Coast Guard said.

ABOARD WERE 24 passengers and seven members of the crew, Pan American said.

One engine of the four-engine plane went dead and the propeller on another was not functioning properly, Pan American said.

Pilot Ogg circled over the Ocean Station November, a Coast Guard weather station ship.

Pan American said the plane had left from the Orient Oct. 13. Its last stop was Honolulu which it left Monday night. It was due in San Francisco at 10 a. m. EST.

Other crew members were: 1st officer G. L. Haaker, 2nd officer Richard L. Brown, Engineer Frank Garcia, Purser Patricia Reynolds.

Stewardesses Mary A. Daniel and Katherine Araki.

Coast Guard headquarters in San Francisco said weather station November is manned by the 255-foot cutter Pontchartrain.

The Navy's Western Sea Defense Command in San Francisco directed the carrier Bennington and the destroyer escort Vammen to the scene as well as two other ships, the Frank Petrarca and the Johnson. All were reported "in the area" but no definite locations were given.

In Honolulu, a Pan American spokesman said Ogg reported one outboard engine "ran away" and he was unable to control it. After he had turned back toward Honolulu, Pan American continued, he lost control of his other outboard engine.

Bender Accuses Lausche of Laxity

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sen. George H. Bender (R-Ohio) says Gov. Frank J. Lausche has never exercised initiative on any problem throughout his tenure of office.

Lausche, a Democrat, is opposing Bender's bid for re-election next month.

Accusing Lausche of "amazing failure" in directing state affairs, Bender said the governor has never "taken the lead in recommending a program of major importance to the people. Whenever he has acted, it has only been in response to the constant prodding of interested groups."

DiSalle Sees Need Of Good Highways

TROY (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor, says a good highway program "will help attract industry to small communities."

DiSalle told a Democratic fund-raising dinner here Monday night, "American industry has always followed the main arteries of transportation" and Ohio's highway program "must be geared to meet the needs of industry."

Portsmouth Phone Service Out Again

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—A crowd of about 500 persons, including some local businessmen, stormed telephone exchanges in this area late Monday night, threw rocks and beer bottles at operators and police alike, and put Scioto County under a phone "blackout" again.

Families Flee As Butane Gas Line Breaks

GREENWICH, Ohio (AP)—A fog of escaping butane gas caused the evacuation of 25 farm families from an area half a mile west of this Huron County village early today.

Police said there apparently was an underground break in a pipeline operated by Standard Oil Co. of Ohio. The line sometimes is used for gasoline, but at present contains butane, a liquid which becomes a gas when it comes in contact with air.

Fearing an explosion, authorities summoned firemen, state highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies.

Auto traffic on U. S. 224 was routed away from the affected area. The New York Central Railroad held two of its trains at Gallion. The Baltimore & Ohio and the Akron, Canton & Youngstown also were notified to stop traffic for the time being.

Evacuation of the area began about 2 a. m. The Red Cross chairman for Huron County, Christine Needham, dispatched the county disaster chairman, William Johnson, from Norwalk, to arrange for housing and food for the families.

Greenwich has a population of more than 1,200.

A Sohio spokesman in Cleveland said a pumping station in Fostoria, west of the area, had pumped oil into the line as far as Mogadore in Summit County to the east, thereby clearing the highly volatile butane out of the affected portion of the line.

Pointing out that today's home-maker, with much of the drudgery removed from her kitchen by modern conveniences, is often better informed on major issues than her husband, Butz said that women voters value the peace, integrity, decency and the broadly based prosperity they see in the leadership of Eisenhower and Nixon.

"Not only the women of America are supporting Eisenhower, but the 'first voters', captured by the Democrats over the last 20 years, are turning to the Republican party," the speaker declared. "They

Electric Shock Kills Boy, 4, at New Holland

A 4-year-old New Holland boy's curiosity about electricity was the cause of his death at 2 p. m. Monday in his home.

Verner Lee Redding and his 5-year-old brother, Sherman, were playing in the living room of the Redding home when Verner plugged in a table lamp and poured a pan of water into the outlet. The water caused a short circuit and the boy was killed instantly, a hastily summoned physician said.

Verner, one of 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Redding, was formally pronounced dead by Dr. Ray Carroll, coroner.

The Redding family had moved to New Holland from Williamsport, only recently. The father is a laborer.

Besides his parents, the boy is survived by four brothers, Floyd, Jr., William, Sherman and Clark; seven sisters, Lilly, Elizabeth, Thelma, Annabelle, Carolyn, Leucratia and Bernice; and his grandmother, Mrs. Leucratia Thompson. The Rev. Dan Eakins, of the Waterloo Christian Church, will conduct graveside services in Waterloo Cemetery at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Friends may call at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home in New Holland after 6 p. m. Tuesday.

Nothing Goes Right At Political Rally

TIJERAS, N. M. (P)—Bernallillo County Republican leaders held a rally in this village to introduce top candidates. But they forgot to invite the guests of honor.

Phone calls finally rounded up former Gov. Edwia Mechem, who is running for another term. Then county chairman George McKim introduced him as "the late Ed Mechem."

U. S. Set To Aid Any Victim Of Aggression in Mid-East

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of State Dulles emphatically asserted today that the United States would give aid within constitutional limits to any victim of aggression in the crisis-ridden Middle East.

The question of the U. S. position was raised at a news conference in connection with reports of impending Iraqi troop movements into Jordan and consequent Israeli nervousness about possible new fighting in the area.

Syrian arms, which Dulles said could be Soviet or Western in origin, are already moving into Jordan.

Arab sources have said — and American officials support the explanation — that Jordan asked Iraqi troops to stabilize the government of King Hussein against collapse.

Israel took the position however that entry of Iraqi troops would violate the 1949 Palestine Armistice and could lead to war.

into Jordan immediately tended to relax tensions on both sides of the Israeli-Jordan border in the Holy Land.

However, Syria announced that she was sending a "gift" of heavy weapons to help in the defense of Jordan's frontier with Israel.

Syria's military attaché in Amman, the Jordanian capital, told a news conference that a military mission from his country accompanied the weapons to train the Jordanians to use them. He said more arms consignments from Syria would reach Jordan later this month, and early in November.

The decision to hold off on the planned reinforcement of Jordan's army by 3,000 Iraqi troops was reported by the Amman newspaper Al Jihad.

Al Jihad said that during Monday's talks in Amman between Jordan's King Hussein and Iraq's Crown Prince Abdul Illah, agreement was reached that the Iraqi troops would stay just outside Jordan's borders but would join Hussein's forces in the event of Israeli aggression.

Coast Guard Rescues 31 Aboard Ship

Pan-Am Stratocruiser, With 2 Engines Faulty, Set Down by Pilot

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—A big Pan American Stratocruiser with two engines in trouble, ditched in the Pacific Ocean today and the Coast Guard quickly rescued all 31 survivors.

The plane, en route from Honolulu to San Francisco, broke in half upon hitting the water. She ditched about midway between Honolulu and San Francisco.

Six women and three children were among the passengers.

Pilot Richard Og had circled the big plane over the USS Pontchartrain, a Coast Guard weather ship for more than three hours before alighting on the ocean.

From San Francisco a seaplane arranged to leave with a rescue doctor aboard. The Coast Guard said it would take the plane about six hours to reach the scene.

Pilot Ogg had awaited for daylight to set his plane down on a rather quiet sea.

The big Stratocruiser, en route from Honolulu to San Francisco "ditched at 8:16 a. m. (PST) and upon contact broke in half," a message from the Coast Guard said.

ABOARD WERE 24 passengers and seven members of the crew, Pan American said.

One engine of the four-engine plane went dead and the propeller on another was not functioning properly, Pan American said.

Pilot Ogg circled over the Ocean Station November, a Coast Guard weather station ship.

Pan American said the plane had left from the Orient Oct. 13. Its last stop was Honolulu which it left Monday night. It was due in San Francisco at 10 a. m. EST.

Other crew members were: 1st Officer G. L. Haaker. 2nd Officer Richard L. Brown. Engineer Frank Garcia. Purser Patricia Reynolds. Stewardesses Mary A. Daniel and Katherine Araki.

Coast Guard headquarters in San Francisco said weather station November is manned by the 255-foot cutter Pontchartrain.

The Navy's Western Sea Defense Command in San Francisco directed the carrier Bennington and the destroyer escort Vammen to the scene as well as two other ships, the Frank Petarca and the Johnson. All were reported "in the area" but no definite locations were given.

In Honolulu, a Pan American spokesman said Ogg reported one outboard engine "ran away" and he was unable to control it. After he had turned back toward Honolulu, Pan American continued, he lost control of his other outboard engine.

Bender Accuses Lausche of Laxity

CLEVELAND (P)—Sen. George H. Bender (R-Ohio) says Gov. Frank J. Lausche has never exercised initiative on any problem throughout his tenure of office.

Lausche, a Democrat, is opposing Bender's bid for re-election next month.

Accusing Lausche of "amazing failure" in directing state affairs, Bender said the governor has never "taken the lead in recommending a program of major importance to the people. Whenever he has acted, it has only been in response to the constant prodding of interested groups."

DiSalle Sees Need Of Good Highways

TROY (P)—Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor, says a good highway program "will help attract industry to small communities."

DiSalle told a Democratic fund raising dinner here Monday night. "American industry has always followed the main arteries of transportation" and Ohio's highway program "must be geared to meet the needs of industry."

Legion Planning For Three Events

Veterans Day Parade Is Set for Nov. 12

Plans for a stag party at Legion Hall Friday night, the windup of the annual membership campaign of Paul H. Hughey Post of the Legion and this year's observance of Veterans Day (formerly Armistice Day) today were taking definite form, Russ Whited, post commander, said.

The stag party is to start with a supper at 6 p. m. with a menu of fish, potato salad, baked beans, etc.

On the serious side of the evening, Whited said, will be some informal discussion, and probably some final reports, of the concluding days of the membership campaign, which started some two months ago.

As of Tuesday noon, 278 veterans of three wars had paid up their Legion dues for 1957. The post's quota for this year is 352 members and Whited said the committee hoped cards could be issued for the remaining 74 and more, too—at Friday night's stag party. He added that the committee wanted to reach, and pass, the quota by Saturday night, a tentative deadline that had been set some time ago.

AN OUTLINE of the Veterans Day program also probably will be given Friday night, Whited said, if there is time for it.

The observance is to start this year on Nov. 10 with a dance at the Legion Hall.

Since Veterans Day, always on Nov. 11, the date the armistice ending the first World War was signed, falls on Sunday this year, Legionnaires are to assemble at the hall at 10 a. m. that day and march to Grace Methodist Church, less than two blocks away, for special services. This has been an annual custom for many years, with the services being held at different churches.

The Veterans Day parade and other ceremonies are to be deferred until Monday, Nov. 12. The observance calls for a special assembly in the high school auditorium at 8:54 a. m. While this is primarily for students, Whited said "all veterans are welcome to attend." Details of the program have not been completed.

In the evening, there is to be a parade, similar to those of former years, from the Legion Hall to the Courthouse, where memorial services are to be held on the lawn at 8 o'clock.

After the services, there is to be an open house at the Legion Hall for all veterans, regardless of membership in the Legion, and guardsmen of Company M. Refreshments are to be served.

Nixon Evasive On Gov. Lausche

TOLEDO (P)—A reporter noted that Vice President Nixon often has asked for Democratic votes for Eisenhower on the basis of supporting the man rather than the party. He asked the vice president Monday how this applies to Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Sen. George Bender's Democratic opponent who has had the votes of many Republicans in past gubernatorial campaigns.

Nixon said he thinks many Republicans who voted for Lausche for governor will consider whether his election to the Senate would mean Democratic control there.

Estes Sees Nixon As GOP 'Darling'

NEW YORK (P)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, hammering at Vice President Nixon during an 18-hour day and night of campaigning, called his opponent "the darling of the reactionary Republicans."

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate also called Nixon a man already a candidate to succeed "a lame duck president."

Saying that Nixon "is an important issue in this campaign," the Tennessee senator declared:

"Whether the people of the United States wish to trust their future and their destiny to Richard Nixon is one of the gravest issues of this campaign."

Fiery Cross Burns On Ohioan's Lawn

CLEVELAND (P)—A crudely fashioned flaming cross appeared Monday night on the front lawn of the Mayfield Heights residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jared B. Klein.

Ike Heading For Campaign In Far West

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower set out today on his most ambitious visit seeking effort of the campaign, a five-day air sweep through the west, expanded to include California.

His 5,850-mile itinerary calls for eight speeches in five Western states with return to Washington Saturday evening. It shaped up as Eisenhower's most extensive trip, since the start of his campaign.

First scheduled stop was in Minnesota for talks in St. Paul and Minneapolis. Then he flies on to Washington state.

The White House announced Eisenhower had decided to make a speech in California on this trip, which started out as a three-day sortie, then was expanded to four days, and now to five.

He will make a major address in Hollywood Bowl Friday evening. An airport talk in Denver, which had been scheduled for about noon Friday, has been put over until midday Saturday.

Eisenhower's decision to campaign in heavily populated southern California points up to the hot battle being waged between Republicans and Democrats for the state's 32 electoral votes. The President won California handily in 1952 against Adlai Stevenson, but there are signs of a closer contest this year.

In another campaign activity Monday night, Eisenhower made a telecast appeal for public attention to a series of statements on what he called the "accomplishments of this Republican administration."

"I am proud of the record," he said. "I for one will be happy to rest our case on your honest judgment."

City School Board

(Continued from Page One) discussion after passage of the resolution that, while the entire building program is needed, since it is based on an enrollment expectancy in the immediate future, some parts of it are more urgent than others. However, the board members, agreed that a decision on the urgency would require considerable study.

Although the board restated its policy of holding its building program to the "most urgent part" in view of the pending court action, it emphasized informally that it considers approval of the bond issue necessary to put it in a position to take care of the school needs of the children as soon as possible should the court not order the formation of a Citizens Committee.

Much of the rest of the 3 1/2-hour session was devoted to more or less routine matters.

THE BOARD approved a request of the State Department of Education for use of a classroom after school hours for a course in "distributive education." Superintendent W. A. Smith described this as a course in retail salesmanship and explained that it would include adults.

Terhune suggested that approval be given the request as a "service to the community."

Smith reported to the board that G. D. Baker had told him that he would give two acres in Belle Aire at a site the board may select south of Comfort Lane and on either side of High St. The board designated Terhune to take the matter up further with Baker before the next meeting.

The board discussed informally the new press box and camera tower at the football field at Gardner

Mainly About People

Eugene Smith, a patient in Mt. Carmel Hospital, is reported as showing slight improvement, after a serious illness.

Glenn Woodmansee, a patient in Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati, for medical treatment, is reported as being in critical condition.

David Orr and Charles Turner, employees of the Poble Exploration Company, left Monday for Liberal, Kansas, where they will remain for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Minnie Morris, 214 McKinley Ave., entered University Hospital, Columbus, Monday as a patient for observation and treatment.

Robert Mitchem Jr., student at Ohio State University, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchem.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith have moved from Lincoln, Nebraska, to 532 West Market St. Mr. Smith, a native of Washington C. H., was recently released from the United States Air Force Base, and is now employed at the North American Aviation Corporation, in Columbus.

Thomas Mann, student at Ohio State University, spent the past weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mann.

Park and its cost, but did not go into details because the project is largely in the hands of the Athletic Assn., which is to meet Thursday night. Pensyl and Flee are the board representatives on the Athletic Board.

A resolution approving a breakdown of salaries for "extended service" (duties beyond the regular school term) for the football coaching staff, faculty manager and band director was passed. This breakdown is designed to get state aid for part of the salaries for this "extended service." It was explained that these faculty members actually start their duties before school opens for the regular term, and that it is the salary for this that the board hopes for help from the state.

Hospital Aide Is Reinstated

COLUMBUS (P)—The Ohio Civil Service Commission has ordered P. E. Mosier reinstated as business manager of Apple Creek State Hospital near Wooster.

Mosier was advised Monday in a letter from Carl Smith, commission chairman, that the order removing him from his job has been "disaffirmed." The commission directed that he be reinstated to his former post effective last Aug. 7. Mosier's dismissal by the state department of mental hygiene and correction came last August after disclosure that a $20,000 house had been built for Mosier on the hospital grounds without authorization by the Legislature.

LWV Gets Briefing On City School Needs

W. A. Smith, superintendent of the Washington C. H. schools, explained the needs for the $645,000 building bond issue and 2.5 - mill operating proposal to the League of Women Voters at its meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John P. Case, president of the LWV.

Both proposals are to be voted on at the Nov. 6 election.

After he concluded his explanations, Smith answered questions regarding building program and school operations.

Mrs. Case announced that time had been allotted for a presentation of the $1,652,500 bond issue proposal of the Miami Trace District, but no representative from the district was there to discuss it.

Shifting the discussion to more general preparations for the election, the League made plans to provide baby - sitters for mothers who want to go to the polls. Mrs. Elmer Reed or Mrs. Walter Craig were delegated to take charge of this service to the voters. They said afterward that a call the day before, would be a help in making up a schedule.

Plans also were made to assist shut-ins who want to vote.

Bulletins for nonpartisan candidates for state office were distributed. These gave their background.

A LWV workshop is to be held in Columbus Nov. 13 from 10:30 a. m. until 3:30 p. m. was announced. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

The LWV "state study" is under the heading of "The Importance of Your Tax Dollar," the chairman reminded the members.

Mrs. David Husinkveld of Cincinnati was the guest speaker. She showed and narrated slides on

Hope Now Waning For 59 U. S. GIs

LONDON (P)—More than 100 Antietam and dozens of other planes, the U. S. aircraft carrier ships fanned out over the Atlantic today in search of a U. S. military transport that vanished six days ago, but hope was practically abandoned of finding any of the 59 servicemen aboard.

The search, one of the greatest in air history, was spurred by the British tanker Navicella's discovery some 370 miles southwest of England of a pair of aircraft wheels and a partially deflated life raft believed to be from the missing C118 Liftmaster.

Ohio Polio Listing Far Below 1955's

COLUMBUS (P)—The State Health Department reported today 17 new cases of polio in Ohio for the week ended Oct. 13. These cases brought the total cases reported this year to 532.

On same date in 1955, 32 cases were reported for the week and 1,125 cases for the year.

Westinghouse Aides OK'd for Idle Pay

HARRISBURG, Pa. (P)—An unemployment compensation referee ruled today that the bulk of 23,000 Pennsylvania employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. were eligible for some state jobless benefits during a period of a long work stoppage last winter.

Referee Libro G. Taglianetti ruled that Westinghouse locked out its employees when it refused Gov. George M. Leader's request that the labor dispute be submitted to binding arbitration.

Some nine million dollars in claims are involved. Maximum benefits are $35 a week for 30 weeks. Strikers are not eligible for benefits. Other workers are.

His Hand-Shaking Shoulder Bruised

TOLEDO (P)—Harvey G. Straub of Toledo, Republican candidate for Congress in the 9th District, fell off the platform in Maumee Monday at a rally for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Straub said he bruised his "hand-shaking shoulder."

The incident occurred as Nixon's party was en route from the airport to downtown Toledo for a speaking engagement.

During the stop at suburban Maumee, Straub backed up to make room for Mr. and Mrs. Nixon and others on the platform and toppled down the steps.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH When one's husband has been faithful 35 years, then turns to an affair with another woman, how does one go on living?

I am 58, and Jake is 60. We are partners in farming, operating 600 acres, living frugally, with almost no vacations and no modern conveniences until a few years ago. We have six grown children and several grandchildren, all healthy and intelligent.

The other woman is 34 and has young children. She doesn't go to church and professes no religion; but she is a good housekeeper, with a pleasant relaxed disposition.

I realize I have been very much at fault, so busy with housework, gardening, bookkeeping for Jake, etc., that I was often tired and cross. Also, a physical ailment has been growing steadily worse for the last three years, during which time I dreaded conjugal intimacy.

I am in the hospital today, scheduled for surgery tomorrow morning, that our doctor insisted upon, as did the children. My husband was indifferent to it until recently.

I have told Jake I love him very much—one may lose the person; but I shall never lose what I felt for him—and will not give him up. He says that once he would have died for me, but feels so differently now that he doesn't know if he will ever want me again. He thinks he loves the other woman and wants a divorce, and a property division so he can marry her.

The other woman's husband found out about the same time I did, and sued, but we managed to quiet things with a money settlement, and have kept it from our children (except one son) and the public.

Jake has been going to church recently (he had almost quit before); and is kinder to me, and takes me some places. But will I ever win him back? Or will he just be caged, always longing, for her?

W. F.

DEAR W. F.: It would be unfair to blame yourself primarily for this tragedy. Jake bears a full share of responsibility for it too. Likewise, the moral other woman is a gratuitous wrong-doer, without justification, in leading him on, as a supposed prize catch — thus

Bridge Players Summoned to Vote

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass. — A town meeting interrupted a bridge party.

Only 143 voters showed up at the special town meeting — 7 short of a quorum.

The town fathers learned a bridge party was in session at a nearby home. They went there and induced the women into attending the meeting.

The meeting voted $10,000 for veterans benefits and granted hospitalization benefits to town employees.

willfully aggravating the damage to marriage that long routine, and mutual negligence, and your ill health had inflicted.

Apparently Jake nurses an injured attitude towards your latter year flagging performance as a sweetheart—blindly ignoring the central fact of your encroaching major illness, tiredness and discomfort, which indubitably contributed to your waning sexual vigor, and consequent lessening of sexual interest.

As for his desire to marry his paramour, Holy Writ tells us that persons who sin become the slave of sin. And in this sense, Jake is still under her spell. I pater. Indeed, they are equally victimized in this respect, perhaps. But in time, with the help of prayer, constructive fellowship and on-going marriage, he should gradually recover moral perspective, self-control, and grateful appreciation of you.

Ministerial Assn. Elects Officers

The Rev. Charles W. Ware, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, was elected president of the Fayette County Ministerial Assn., at a pot-luck supper meeting of the group in Grace Methodist Church Monday night.

The Rev. Mr. Ware, who was not able to attend the meeting because of illness at home, will take up his duties officially at next month's meeting.

Other officers elected were the Rev. Harold B. Twining, First Baptist Church, vice president; the Rev. L. J. Poe, Grace Methodist Church, secretary; The Rev. Norman D. Renn, Calvary Baptist, treasurer and the Rev. C. R. Winson, Jeffersonville Methodist, assistant secretary.

The retiring president, Rev. Charles Johnson, Rodgers Chapel A.M.E., met with the officers to outline their new duties.

The group has about 15 members.

Mrs. Paul Elliott and Mrs. L. J. Poe made arrangements for the supper.

'Big' Bootlegger Put on Probation

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — The biggest bootlegger in Tennessee—412 pounds—was placed on probation, but Federal Judge William E. Miller made sugar rationing a condition.

The judge, however, didn't have a reducing diet in mind for J. Alex Goins. The judge's rationing program applies to operation of Goins' grocery store near Lyles, Tenn.

Goins may not sell more than 100 pounds of sugar to any one family in a three-month period, and he must keep an accurate record of any sugar sold in excess of 10-pound bags.

Sugar is a major ingredient of corn liquor.

Radiation Kills Physician, 50

PHILADELPHIA — Exposure to atomic radiation in a government laboratory between 8 and 10 years ago has taken the life of a Philadelphia physician, the city medical examiner said.

Medical Examiner Joseph W. Spelman issued his finding after an inquest into the death last July 24 of Dr. Kenneth A. Koerber, 50, of Philadelphia. Dr. Koerber had worked in the Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven National Laboratories, Upton, N. Y., between 1946 and 1948. He inspected laboratories to protect workers from radiation.

Dr. Spelman said the radiation was probably cumulative instead of a single dose.

Dr. Spelman said that from the time Dr. Koerber left Brookhaven until his death he was in failing health.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH When one's husband has been faithful 35 years, then turns to an affair with another woman, how does one go on living?

I am 58, and Jake is 60. We are partners in farming, operating 600 acres, living frugally, with almost no vacations and no modern conveniences until a few years ago. We have six grown children and several grandchildren, all healthy and intelligent.

The other woman is 34 and has young children. She doesn't go to church and professes no religion; but she is a good housekeeper, with a pleasant relaxed disposition.

I realize I have been very much at fault, so busy with housework, gardening, bookkeeping for Jake, etc., that I was often tired and cross. Also, a physical ailment has been growing steadily worse for the last three years, during which time I dreaded conjugal intimacy.

I am in the hospital today, scheduled for surgery tomorrow morning, that our doctor insisted upon, as did the children. My husband was indifferent to it until recently.

I have told Jake I love him very much—one may lose the person; but I shall never lose what I felt for him—and will not give him up. He says that once he would have died for me, but feels so differently now that he doesn't know if he will ever want me again. He thinks he loves the other woman and wants a divorce, and a property division so he can marry her.

The other woman's husband found out about the same time I did, and sued, but we managed to quiet things with a money settlement, and have kept it from our children (except one son) and the public.

Jake has been going to church recently (he had almost quit before); and is kinder to me, and takes me some places. But will I ever win him back? Or will he just be caged, always longing for her?

W. F.
DEAR W. F.: It would be unfair to blame yourself primarily for this tragedy. Jake bears a full share of responsibility for it too. Likewise, the moral other woman is a gratuitous wrong-doer, without justification, in leading him on, as a supposed prize catch — thus willfully aggravating the damage to marriage that long routine, and mutual negligence, and your ill health had inflicted.

Apparently Jake nurses an injured attitude towards your latter year flagging performance as a sweetheart—blindly ignoring the central fact of your encroaching major illness, tiredness and discomfort, which indubitably contributed to your waning sexual vigor, and consequent lessening of sexual interest.

As for his desire to marry his paramour, Holy Writ tells us that persons who sin become the slave of sin. And in this sense, Jake is still under her spell, I gather. Indeed, they are equally victimized in this respect, perhaps. But in time, with the help of prayer, constructive fellowship and on-going marriage, he should gradually recover moral perspective, self-control, and grateful appreciation of you.

Ministerial Assn. Elects Officers

The Rev. Charles W. Ware, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, was elected president of the Fayette County Ministerial Assn., at a pot-luck supper meeting of the group in Grace Methodist Church Monday night.

The Rev. Mr. Ware, who was not able to attend the meeting because of illness at home, will take up his duties officially at next month's meeting.

Other officers elected were the Rev. Harold B. Twining, First Baptist Church, vice president; the Rev. L. J. Poe, Grace Methodist Church, secretary; The Rev. Norman D. Renn, Calvary Baptist, treasurer and the Rev. C. R. Winson, Jeffersonville Methodist, assistant secretary.

The retiring president, Rev. Charles Johnson, Rodgers Chapel A.M.E., met with the officers to outline their new duties.

The group has about 15 members.

Mrs. Paul Elliott and Mrs. L. J. Poe made arrangements for the supper.

'Big' Bootlegger Put on Probation

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — The biggest bootlegger in Tennessee—412 pounds—was placed on probation, but Federal Judge William E. Miller made sugar rationing a condition.

The judge, however, didn't have a reducing diet in mind for J. Alex Goins. The judge's rationing program applies to operation of Goins' grocery store near Lyles, Tenn.

Goins may not sell more than 100 pounds of sugar to any one family in a three-month period, and he must keep an accurate record of any sugar sold in excess of 10-pound bags.

Sugar is a major ingredient of corn liquor.

Radiation Kills Physician, 50

PHILADELPHIA — Exposure to atomic radiation in a government laboratory between 8 and 10 years ago has taken the life of a Philadelphia physician, the city medical examiner said.

Medical Examiner Joseph W. Spelman issued his finding after an inquest into the death last July 24 of Dr. Kenneth A. Koerber, 50, of Philadelphia. Dr. Koerber had worked in the Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven National Laboratories, Upton, N. Y., between 1946 and 1948. He inspected laboratories to protect workers from radiation.

Dr. Spelman said the radiation was probably cumulative instead of a single dose.

Dr. Spelman said that from the time Dr. Koerber left Brookhaven until his death he was in failing health.

Irreconcilable Views about Egypt's Nasser

The present threat of international trouble due to the action and attitude of President Nasser of Egypt is the only immediate real danger cloud against peace on the horizon.

It is a natural source of worry to parents of boys who are responding to the draft as well as to the young men themselves, through fear that another war will involve this country.

This leads to more than casual interest in every city and county in our nation as to what is the truth about this man Nasser.

There appear to be two irreconcilable views. One is that he is a courageous patriot who proposes to lead the people of the Middle East from a certain type of bondage due to Western imperialism. This is the view that Nasser followers seek to give the outside world.

The other is that he is a ruthless and unprincipled dictator with the ego and ambitions of a Hitler.

An exceptionally interesting — and apparently authoritative — account of Nasser, and what he is doing to and for Egypt, appears in a recent issue of The Reporter. The fact that the article was printed by that magazine is significant in itself—for The Reporter's editorial policy is strongly liberal, is opposed to imperialism, and is in favor of aid of all kinds to the underdeveloped nations of the world.

The article's author, Claire Sterling, writes, "There are more photographs of Nasser in Cairo today than there were of Farouk in the era of that degenerate king. You see them everywhere, in all forms and sizes — from great billboards to match books. You also see martial figures of soldiers — one is actually five stories high."

Along with this, according to Sterling, "... the habits so familiar in every dictator's capital have come into use in Cairo's cafes: the oblique method of political conversation, the glance over the shoulder, the careful silence at the approach of a waiter." The concentration camps are full, with an estimated 30,000 inmates. In some documented cases, dissidents from the regime have suffered barbaric tortures.

In his many promised reforms, Sterling goes on, Nasser has signally failed — the hospital program, the school program, the land reform program, industrialization. The dream of the huge Aswan Dam seems as far from realization as ever.

What Nasser has done is to build up his Army. According to Sterling, the new defense budget is officially put at $60 million while, off the record, it has increased to at least four times that. Compulsory military training reaches down to the primary schools. Sterling states: "For a country whose people earn an average of $100 a year and whose population increases by 1500 daily, this kind of totally unproductive expenditure is an intolerable, suffocating weight."

Egypt is simply not getting the new income she needs — and "no private investor would put new money into Egypt today." So, of course, Nasser has turned to Russia, with this dubious result: "In exchange for his cotton, he gets arms, machinery, and consumer goods when and if the Russians are willing and able to send them; whatever rubles he may come by are of no use to him in the western market."

What of the future? In Sterling's view, "It is with the army that he (Nasser) will have to have his reckoning." And Sterling, clearly, does not think Nasser has any real assurance here. The closing words of his article are: "... the army officers looking at Britain, Russia, and Israel... will have the last word. Time might do more for British interests after all than the airborne troops Britain could drop along the banks of the Suez Canal."

Diet and Health

Salt May Affect High Blood Pressure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Are you one of those persons who salts his food even before tasting it? If you are, chances are you might be a good candidate for a certain type of high blood pressure—essential hypertension. Let me emphasize right here that there is known explanation for essential hypertension.

Cause of Disease
We can't say definitely that heavy and prolonged use of salt is the cause of this type of disease. But results of recent tests presented to the American Society of Experimental Pathology seem to give us reason to believe that beginning a high salt diet early in life and continuing it for several years might be a factor in development of the trouble.

Highest Incidence
The tests conducted on 1,346 persons plainly indicated that the groups using the most salt had the highest incidence of this blood pressure ailment.
The survey was carried out by

Drs. R. A. Love and Lewis K. Dahl at the Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, New York.
They classified the employees into three categories: those who never used table salt, those who added salt to their foods but only after tasting and those who always salted foods before they tasted them.

Only one of the 135 persons in the first category developed essential hypertension. Forty-three of the 630 in the second classification developed the ailment. But 61 out of 581 persons who salted untasted food were found to have the disease.

I think the evidence is pretty plain that there is a definite connection here.

Dutch Royal House Being Reorganized

THE HAGUE (AP)—The Dutch government has announced that Queen Juliana is reorganizing the royal household as a result of the recent furor over her relationship with the fifth healer, Miss Greet Hofmans.

The government information service denied recent reports that the Queen still had contact with the 61-year-old woman whose influence over the monarch reportedly caused a deep rift between Juliana and her husband, Prince Bernhard.

The Queen became acquainted with the faith healer in 1948 when the Queen and her husband hoped she could heal their partly blind daughter, Princess Maria, now 9.

Dogs May Need Feathers

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Odd facts a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That if the dog wants to continue to be known as man's best friend he may have to grow feathers. More people are turning to birds for pets. A census showed the nation's parakeet population increased 22 per cent last year, canaries 12 per cent, cats 6 per cent and dogs only 3 per cent.

That a 160-pound mother recently gave birth in a Cleveland hospital to a pair of twins whose combined weight was 20 pounds, 4 1/2 ounces. This is believed to be a new medical record.

That if a man doesn't want to be the father of twins his best bet is to marry a teen-ager. Women over 30 are twice as likely to have twins or triplets as those under 20.

That singer Kate Smith has never set foot outside North America and doesn't want to.

That long before the invention

of the submarine nature equipped the hippopotamus with a built-in periscope. Its bulging eyes protrude so far it can submerge all the rest of its big body and still maintain a sharp lookout.

That television announcer Carl King is forming an organization of people with square names—that is, four letters in their first name and four in the last.

That Alexander the Great, long before Kipling wrote "Never the Twain Shall Meet," tried to fuse East and West by instituting 10,000 mass marriages between Persians and Greeks.

That an American buffalo, for all his ungainly bulk, can lope across the plains at a speed of up to 40 miles an hour. I've held for years that if they cross-bred buffaloes and Kentucky thoroughbreds the result would be fur-bearing racehorses that could run in all kinds of weather and thus enable northern tracks to stay open all winter.

That, despite medical progress, some 28 million Americans today suffer from some type of chronic ailment, not including the most widespread of all, chronic laziness.

That a Missouri medical journal reports test have shown a man can drink a 12-ounce bottle of beer every half hour for 8 hours (or a total of a gallon and a half) without raising the alcohol in his blood to the point of intoxication. A bartender I asked about this commented, "That test must have been made on a guy with awfully hollow legs, or they used mighty wack beer."

That "Yellow Kid" Weil, reported to have garnered millions as one of history's greatest swindlers, lost his wealth by investing it in legitimate enterprise that flopped.

That it was Oscar Wilde who said, "What is a cynic? A man who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing."

Adlai Can't Be Serious

By George Sokolsky

The 1956 campaign is going hog wild. The Democrats are bothered by a political trick that Eisenhower used in 1952. Unexpectedly and in response to the obvious concern of millions of Americans at the futile conduct of the Korean War — a war that was being fought to be lost — he announced that even before he was inaugurated as president, he would go to Korea.

It was a beau geste and really without earth-shaking significance because until Eisenhower actually became president, it could not matter whether he went to Korea or not.

However, Eisenhower was elected and the Democrats have, for some unstatistical reason, come to believe that this one statement was what elected him. They have been waiting for another such tour de force, as such things are called. Adlai Stevenson has hurled three boomerangs at Eisenhower, two of them undoubtedly on the assumption that if Stevenson did not say them first, Eisenhower would. The two were:

1. Drop the draft;

2. Stop testing bombs.

The third was a percent error, namely, that Dr. Milton Eisenhower's South American report strengthened Peron, when his research staff should have told Stevenson that whatever aid Peron got from the United States, about 100 million dollars came to him during the Truman administration.

As to his suggestion about dropping the draft and stopping the testing of bombs, it can only be ascribed as an unrealistic, even silly, proposal. And such a proposal would have been just as unrealistic and just as silly if suggested by President Eisenhower. The world situation is not ready for either of them. As a matter of fact, Europe was close to war over the Suez Canal crisis at the time that Stevenson thought we could drop the draft and stop testing bombs.

And the Suez Canal crisis cannot be blamed upon Eisenhower. It goes back to the organization of the Arab League with the blessing and financial assistance of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Nasser is a product of the intense Arab nationalism which the Arab League stimulated in all Moslem countries.

In human history, the rivalry between Christianity and Islam is not new. Charles Martel stopped the Moors at Tours in 732; Hunyadi, the Hungarian, in 1456, stopped the Mohammedans at Belgrade; John Sobieski, the Pole, stopped them at Vienna in 1683.

What would have been the history of our civilization if Islam had conquered Europe is, of course, speculative, but this much is not speculative: the year 1956, when the United States faces the overt and unmitigated antagonism of Soviet Russia and the re-emerging and rising hatred of the Arabs for all Christian peoples (and that includes the citizens of Israel) is no time even to suggest dropping the draft and stopping the tests of bombs.

Why do we need to test bombs?

There are at least two reasons:

1. Without tests, nobody can possibly say what a bomb can do. Each test is a frightful danger to the entire human race because of the fall-out radioactive strontium, and sooner or later, the Russians will recognize that they must come to some agreement for universal inspection and control so that the bomb can be eliminated.

It is impossible for one country to stop testing, which means developing fiercer bombs, while another country continues. Only Soviet Russia has stood in the way of the total removal of the bomb as an instrument of war.

2. Testing is a form of advertising. Atomic intelligence has been developed to a point where it is possible not only to spot the exact place where the bomb was tested, but the nature of the bomb, the material used and the ferocity of the explosion.

Therefore, each test tells the other nation that the odds are 1,000 to 1, or 10 to 1. If those ever become 1 to 1, we shall be in very great peril, indeed.

At the present time, Khrushchev is having the kind of internal trouble that often has caused a politician to bring on a war to make his own situation more secure. But Khrushchev knows that even if he acted first, the retaliation would be so overwhelming that nothing would be left for him.

Surely, Adlai Stevenson has no desire for this country to risk so much that it is destroyed by its own weaknesses. Campaign oratory may be amusing but it needs to be serious, too.

Federal Court Loaded with Beer

CINCINNATI (AP)—It looked like they were getting ready for quite a party in U. S. District Court Monday when they hauled in a dozen or more cases of beer.

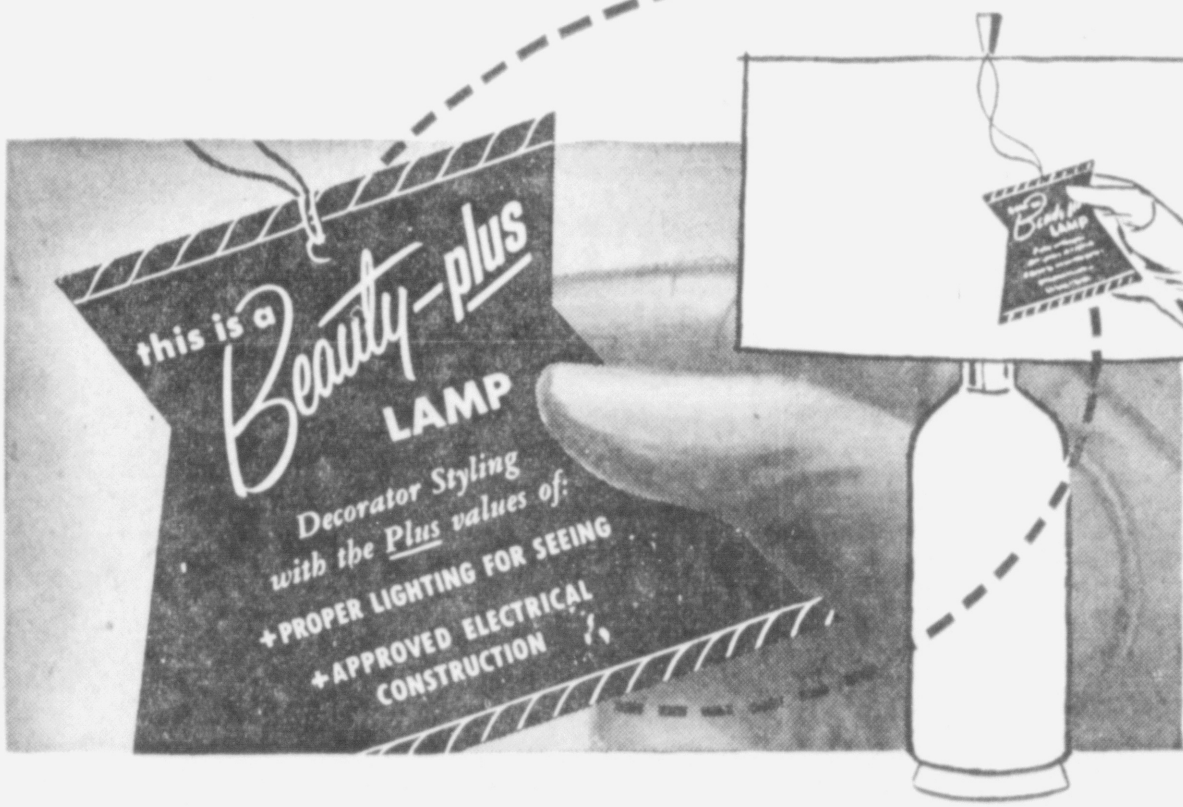

But the beer was only evidence, brought in so Judge John H. Druffel could read the labels.

The case before the court was that brought by the Bavarian Brewing Co. of Covington, Ky., asking the judge to enjoin Anheuser-Busch of St. Louis, from selling a "Bavarian" beer.

Anheuser-Busch has filed a counter-suit, asking that the Covington firm's trademark, "Bavarian," be canceled, claiming there are 69 or 70 firms in the country making "Bavarian" beer.

The article's author, Claire Sterling, writes, "There are more photographs of Nasser in Cairo today than there were of Farouk in the era of that degenerate king. You see them everywhere, in all forms and sizes — from great billboards to match books. You also see martial figures of soldiers — one is actually five stories high."

Along with this, according to Sterling, "...the habits so familiar in every dictator's capital have come into use in Cairo's cafes: the oblique method of political conversation, the glance over the shoulder, the careful silence at the approach of a waiter." The concentration camps are full, with an estimated 30,000 inmates. In some documented cases, dissidents from the regime have suffered barbaric tortures.

In his many promised reforms, Sterling goes on, Nasser has signally failed — the hospital program, the school program, the land reform program, industrialization. The dream of the huge Aswan Dam seems as far from realization as ever.

What Nasser has done is to build up his Army. According to Sterling, the new defense budget is officially put at $60 million while, off the record, it has increased to at least four times that. Compulsory military training reaches down to the primary schools. Sterling states: "For a country whose people earn an average of $100 a year and whose population increases by 1500 daily, this kind of totally unproductive expenditure is an intolerable, suffocating weight."

Egypt is simply not getting the new income she needs — and "no private investor would put new money into Egypt today." So, of course, Nasser has turned to Russia, with this dubious result: "In exchange for his cotton, he gets arms, machinery, and consumer goods when and if the Russians are willing and able to send them; whatever rubles he may come by are of no use to him in the western market."

What of the future? In Sterling's view, "It is with the army that he (Nasser) will have to have his reckoning." And Sterling, clearly, does not think Nasser has any real assurance here. The closing words of his article are: "...the army officers looking at Britain, Russia, and Israel... will have the last word. Time might do more for British interests after all than the airborne troops Britain could drop along the banks of the Suez Canal."

Dogs May Need Feathers

NEW YORK (AP)—Odd facts a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That if the dog wants to continue to be known as man's best friend he may have to grow feathers. More people are turning to birds for pets. A census showed the nation's parakeet population increased 22 per cent last year, canaries 12 per cent, cats 6 per cent and dogs only 3 per cent.

That a 160-pound mother recently gave birth in a Cleveland hospital to a pair of twins whose combined weight was 20 pounds, 4½ ounces. This is believed to be a new medical record.

That if a man doesn't want to be the father of twins his best bet is to marry a teen-ager. Women over 20 are twice as likely to have twins or triplets as those under 20.

That singer Kate Smith has never set foot outside North America and doesn't want to.

That long before the invention

of the submarine nature equipped the hippopotamus with a built-in periscope. Its bulging eyes protrude so far it can submerge all the rest of its big body and still maintain a sharp lookout.

That television announcer Carl King is forming an organization of people with square names—that is, four letters in their first name and four in the last.

That Alexander the Great, long before Kipling wrote "Never the Twain Shall Meet," tried to fuse East and West by instituting 10,000 mass marriages between Persians and Greeks.

That an American buffalo, for all his ungainly bulk, can lope across the plains at a speed of up to 40 miles an hour. I've held for years that if they cross-bred buffaloes and Kentucky thoroughbreds the result would be fur-bearing racehorses that could run in all kinds of weather and thus enable northern tracks to stay open all winter.

That, despite medical progress, some 28 million Americans today suffer from some type of chronic ailment, not including the most widespread of all, chronic laziness.

That a Missouri medical journal reports test have shown a man can drink a 12-ounce bottle of beer every half hour for 8 hours (or a total of a gallon and a half) without raising the alcohol in his blood to the point of intoxication. A bartender I asked about this commented, "That test must have been made on a guy with awfully hollow legs, or they used mighty wack beer."

That "Yellow Kid" Weil, reported to have garnered millions as one of history's greatest swindlers, lost his wealth by investing it in legitimate enterprise that flopped.

That it was Oscar Wilde who said, "What is a cynic? A man who knows the price of everything and the value of nothing."

Adlai Can't Be Serious

The 1956 campaign is going hog wild. The Democrats are bothered by a political trick that Eisenhower used in 1952. Unexpectedly and in response to the obvious concern of millions of Americans at the futile conduct of the Korean War — a war that was being fought to be lost — he announced that even before he was inaugurated as president, he would go to Korea.

It was a beau geste and really without earth-shaking significance because until Eisenhower actually became president, it could not matter whether he went to Korea or not.

However, Eisenhower was elected and the Democrats have, for some unstatistical reason, come to believe that this one statement was what elected him. They have been waiting for another such tour de force, as such things are called. Adlai Stevenson has hurled three boomerangs at Eisenhower, two of them undoubtedly on the assumption that if Stevenson did not say them first, Eisenhower would. The two were:

1. Drop the draft;
 2. Stop testing bombs.
- The third was a percent error, namely, that Dr. Milton Eisenhower's South American report strengthened Peron, when his research staff should have told Stevenson that whatever aid Peron got from the United States, about 100 million dollars came to him during the Truman administration.

As to his suggestion about dropping the draft and stopping the testing of bombs, it can only be ascribed as an unrealistic, even silly, proposal. And such a proposal would have been just as unrealistic and just as silly if suggested by President Eisenhower. The world situation is not ready for either of them. As a matter of fact, Europe was close to war over the Suez Canal crisis at the time that Stevenson thought we could drop the draft and stop testing bombs.

And the Suez Canal crisis cannot be blamed upon Eisenhower. It goes back to the organization of the Arab League with the blessing and financial assistance of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Nasser is a product of the intense Arab nationalism which the Arab League stimulated in all Moslem countries.

In human history, the rivalry between Christianity and Islam is not new. Charles Martel stopped the Moors at Tours in 732; Hunyadi, the Hungarian, in 1456, stopped the Mohammedans at Belgrade; John Sobieski, the Pole, stopped them at Vienna in 1683.

What would have been the history of our civilization if Islam had conquered Europe is, of course, speculative, but this much is not speculative: the year 1956, when the United States faces the overt and unmitigated antagonism of Soviet Russia and the re-emerging and rising hatred of the Arabs for all Christian peoples (and that includes the citizens of Israel) is no time even to suggest dropping the draft and stopping the tests of bombs.

Why do we need to test bombs? There are at least two reasons: 1. Without tests, nobody can possibly say what a bomb can do. Each test is a frightful danger to the entire human race because of the fall — out radioactive strontium, and sooner or later, the Russians will recognize that they must come to some agreement for universal inspection and control so that the bomb can be eliminated. It is impossible for one country to stop testing, which means developing fiercer bombs, while another country continues. Only Soviet Russia has stood in the way of the total removal of the bomb as an instrument of war.

2. Testing is a form of advertising. Atomic intelligence has been developed to a point where it is possible not only to spot the exact place where the bomb was tested, but the nature of the bomb, the material used and the ferocity of the explosion.

Therefore, each test tells the other nation that the odds are 1,000 to 1, or 10 to 1. If those ever become 1 to 1, we shall be in very great peril, indeed.

At the present time, Khrushchev is having the kind of internal trouble that often has caused a politician to bring on a war to make his own situation more secure. But Khrushchev knows that even if he acted first, the retaliation would be so overwhelming that nothing would be left for him.

Surely, Adlai Stevenson has no desire for this country to risk so much that it is destroyed by its own weaknesses. Campaign oratory may be amusing but it needs to be serious, too.

Federal Court Loaded with Beer

CINCINNATI (AP)—It looked like they were getting ready for quite a party in U. S. District Court Monday when they hauled in a dozen or more cases of beer.

But the beer was only evidence, brought in so Judge John H. Druffel could read the labels.

The case before the court was that brought by the Bavarian Brewing Co. of Covington, Ky., asking the judge to enjoin Anheuser-Busch of St. Louis, from selling a "Bavarian" beer.

Anheuser-Busch has filed a counter-suit, asking that the Covington firm's trademark, "Bavarian," be canceled, claiming there are 69 or 70 firms in the country making "Bavarian" beer.

Diet and Health

Salt May Affect High Blood Pressure

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Are you one of those persons who salts his food even before tasting it? If you are, chances are you might be a good candidate for a certain type of high blood pressure—essential hypertension. Let me emphasize right here that there is known explanation for essential hypertension.

Cause of Disease

We can't say definitely that heavy and prolonged use of salt is the cause of this type of disease. But results of recent tests presented to the American Society of Experimental Pathology seem to give us reason to believe that beginning a high salt diet early in life and continuing it for several years might be a factor in development of the trouble.

Highest Incidence

The tests conducted on 1,346 persons plainly indicated that the groups using the most salt had the highest incidence of this blood pressure ailment.

The survey was carried out by

Drs. R. A. Love and Lewis K. Dahl at the Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, New York.

They classified the employees into three categories: those who never used table salt, those who added salt to their foods but only after tasting and those who always salted foods before they tasted them.

Only one of the 135 persons in the first category developed essential hypertension. Forty-three of the 630 in the second classification developed the ailment. But 61 out of 581 persons who salted untasted food were found to have the disease.

I think the evidence is pretty plain that there is a definite connection here.

Business Feels Increased Cost In Operations

Margin of Profits Seen Shrinking in Many Enterprises

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — Costlier business operations take some of the good out of good times for many concerns.

A number of firms are reporting higher sales volume today without any corresponding rise in profits. And some report profits trailing last year even though they're doing more business.

Still rising costs in the steel industry is causing talk of another hike in steel prices by spring.

Merchants, because they deal directly with the buying public, are in a less happy position when it comes to raising price tags. Many of them are reported absorbing the higher prices on manufactured goods rather than risk loss of customers in the present highly competitive retail market.

Store keepers see their profit margins squeezed as they try to ward off the inroads of the discount houses and other forms of present day competition.

How much it costs to be competitive these days is shown in the stories from Detroit.

The auto makers are supposed to have spent one billion dollars in bringing out the new models. They plan to spend more millions than ever this year in advertising the 1957 models.

Early response to the new Fords is reported very encouraging. When the Chevrolets and Plymouths reach the dealers, the competitive race will be on and the auto makers will find out whether their billion dollar bet will be profitable. One thing they're worrying about is whether tight money, threatening to send up installment payment costs, will cut into sales.

High development costs for new planes has cut into the earnings of Douglas Aircraft. The company says it spent $16,800,000 in the first nine months on development, and its net profit is below last year. Rising costs of labor and materials are cited by the New York Central railroad in reporting a

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY
In all probability Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Tway, who reside not far from the old Walnut Creek Church, 2 1/2 miles southeast of New Martinsburg, have more buckeye trees on their farm than there are on any other farm in Fayette County.

Tway, who is a member of the Fayette County Board of Education, and former president of the Fayette County Hobby Club, informed me recently at a hobby club meeting that there are about 25 to 30 buckeye trees on the farm.

I had known for many years there were two or three buckeye trees in the Walnut Creek churchyard, but I was not aware that so many of the trees could be found on a single farm in the county.

In fact buckeye trees are not very plentiful in this area, and I know of less than a half dozen such trees, from which Ohio gets its name "Buckeye State", in the city.

One of them is on the lawn of Mrs. Willard Wilson, on Clinton Ave., one stands near the sidewalk of the Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Baker home on N. North St. and one on a lawn on E. Elm St. I have a small buckeye shrub, grown from seed, in my backyard.

MORE LITTERS

Already a large number of fall pigs have arrived and are starting to grow into big porkers, so that eventually we can say "three little pigs went to market" (along with many thousands more) sometime next year.

It has not been so many years that two litters of pigs each year was the extent of pig raising, but multiple farrowing has been encouraged by extension agents and others, so that three and even four litters a year are being encouraged.

As a result there are little pigs in abundance in the county virtually every month in the year, and many swine raisers are following the plan as an economic step in hog raising.

In the meantime the outlook for pigs in this part of Ohio this fall is about normal.

NO READIN' AND WRITIN'
It is rare nowadays that one finds a person in Fayette County who cannot read and write, although there are still a few such persons living who, for some reason, failed to obtain that much schooling.

Until more and more attention was given to "book larnin'" a large number of people could neither read nor write, and it was not much wonder that they were so limited in so many ways, and were ready to believe every superstition that was ever heard of.

It is true that many of hardy men and women (we always say hardy pioneers, although some of them were anything else but well and strong) who had little opportunity to attend schools, could not read and write.

Then, as the number of settlers increased, log school houses, and later frame and brick school houses sprang up and it was possible for everyone who had any ambition and the mental capacity, to attend school and acquire a vast store of knowledge. Look at "Honest Abe" Lincoln, for instance.

I recall that during the Spanish American War, in 1898, a neighbor who could neither read nor write, was looking at the picture of a battleship, but he was holding the paper upside down. After gazing at the ship for a little while he exclaimed, "My what a wreck this ship has been in".

WHEAT ACREAGE SHORT

Fayette County's normal acreage sown to wheat, around 32,000 acres, will not be reached in the county this year, due to hundreds of acres being held out under the soil bank plan, according to W. W. Montgomery, County Extension Agent.

Work of sowing wheat is now moving forward rapidly as farmers realize it is time for the wheat to be in the ground if it is to get a start before winter.

Most of the seeding is done on corn ground, and of course, it is necessary to clear the ground of corn before seeding can be done. And corn - picking is late this fall.

STILL ANOTHER

Seems like "Uncle Tom" "Little Eva" and "Simon Legree", to say nothing about those bellowing blood hounds, in the famous show troupe from Williamsport known as Harcourt's Uncle Tom's Cabin, loved to play in Washington C. H.

I first recalled seeing the show on a vacant lot where the Burke Monument works is now located, Fayette and East Sts, nearly a half century ago; then someone recalled that the same show was given in the old Empire Opera House on West Court St. about 40 years ago.

Now come two or three persons, including Mrs. Edgar Richardson, of Third St., who recall the show was given under a tent on the Dale lot on W. Court St., some 25 or 30 years ago.

Mrs. Richardson has a photograph of Little Eva, and she was a real cute lookin' youngun'. Probably a grandmother now.

Conservatives Quit French Socialists

LYON, France — Conservative members of France's powerful Radical Socialist party have quit in protest against ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France's leadership.

As a result, elder statesman Edouard Herriot resigned the party presidency he had held since World War II. Herriot told the party's annual convention he supported Mendes-France but could not head a divided party.

At Mendes - France's suggestion, the convention left the presidency open in the hope Herriot would reconsider.

NO READIN' AND WRITIN'

It is rare nowadays that one finds a person in Fayette County who cannot read and write, although there are still a few such persons living who, for some reason, failed to obtain that much schooling.

Until more and more attention was given to "book larnin'" a large number of people could neither read nor write, and it was not much wonder that they were so limited in so many ways, and were ready to believe every superstition that was ever heard of.

It is true that many of hardy men and women (we always say hardy pioneers, although some of them were anything else but well and strong) who had little opportunity to attend schools, could not read and write.

Then, as the number of settlers increased, log school houses, and later frame and brick school houses sprang up and it was possible for everyone who had any ambition and the mental capacity, to attend school and acquire a vast store of knowledge. Look at "Honest Abe" Lincoln, for instance.

I recall that during the Spanish American War, in 1898, a neighbor who could neither read nor write, was looking at the picture of a battleship, but he was holding the paper upside down. After gazing at the ship for a little while he exclaimed, "My what a wreck this ship has been in".

WHEAT ACREAGE SHORT

Fayette County's normal acreage sown to wheat, around 32,000 acres, will not be reached in the county this year, due to hundreds of acres being held out under the soil bank plan, according to W. W. Montgomery, County Extension Agent.

Work of sowing wheat is now moving forward rapidly as farmers realize it is time for the wheat to be in the ground if it is to get a start before winter.

Most of the seeding is done on corn ground, and of course, it is necessary to clear the ground of corn before seeding can be done. And corn - picking is late this fall.

STILL ANOTHER

Seems like "Uncle Tom" "Little Eva" and "Simon Legree", to say nothing about those bellowing blood hounds, in the famous show troupe from Williamsport known as Harcourt's Uncle Tom's Cabin, loved to play in Washington C. H.

I first recalled seeing the show on a vacant lot where the Burke Monument works is now located, Fayette and East Sts, nearly a half century ago; then someone recalled that the same show was given in the old Empire Opera House on West Court St. about 40 years ago.

Now come two or three persons, including Mrs. Edgar Richardson, of Third St., who recall the show was given under a tent on the Dale lot on W. Court St., some 25 or 30 years ago.

Mrs. Richardson has a photograph of Little Eva, and she was a real cute lookin' youngun'. Probably a grandmother now.

Conservatives Quit French Socialists

LYON, France (AP)—Conservative members of France's powerful Radical Socialist party have quit in protest against ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France's leadership.

As a result, elder statesman Edouard Herriot resigned the party presidency he had held since World War II. Herriot told the party's annual convention he supported Mendes-France but could not head a divided party.

At Mendes - France's suggestion, the convention left the presidency open in the hope Herriot would reconsider.

Mrs. Snyder Is Hostess to Sorority Chapter

Members of Xi Beta Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met at the home of Mrs. Richard Snyder Monday evening.

The meeting was opened according to ritual by the president, Mrs. Ray Jennings.

During the regular order of business, Mrs. Charles Pfersick, Ways and Means chairman, reported on the current project, the sale of Christmas cards. This is an annual sale, the proceeds, of which, are used to finance a Xmas party for deserving pre-school age children.

For the benefit of those who could not attend, a report was made by Mrs. Jennings on the hayride and hamburger fry held Sat., Oct. 13 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hagler when the husbands of members and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoskins were guests, with Mrs. Guy Briggs as general chairman for the lovely event.

Mrs. Harry Campbell, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Ruth Glass who presented the program entitled "Practical Applications for Skin and Hair", opening with the question "How does your hair measure up to the 4 c's—condition, cut, curl and color. She listed as means for achieving the best individual results in the 4 c's and also listed the hair styles and types of permanent waves for the individual also showing examples.

Mrs. Glass next listed three steps to a prettier skin: 1—Keep it clean by washing face 2 or 3 times a day with a mild face soap and warm water. Do not scrub face with a wash cloth. 2—Make-up highlights: Use make-up moderately, and draw attention to eyes; 3—Aids and more aids—Sunshine, daily exercise, plenty of sleep.

She also pointed out that make-up falls into two classifications—background and accent, and explained how to choose proper make-up and how to apply it.

Mrs. Glass closed, by saying, "Beauty lies not in imitation but in being instinctively and naturally oneself. Beauty can and does assume as infinite a variety of shapes as the shells of the sea, but always, underneath, beauty has one face—the face of authenticity.

Mrs. Snyder, assisted by Mrs. Edward Sexton, served light refreshments and a social hour followed.

Church Society Holds Meeting

The regular meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Grace Methodist Church was held Monday evening in the church parlors.

The president, Miss Norma Dodd, presided over the brief business session during which the usual reports and those of standing committees were heard and approved. Mrs. Dwight Nelson was in charge of the impressive devotion, using as her theme a basket of flowers and greenery from her own garden for a most interesting talk.

Mrs. George Stitt very capably conducted the lesson study on the topic "Volcanos in Southeast Asia", developing the characteristics and problems in Mayia, Burma, the Philippine Islands, Hong Kong, Formosa and Indonesia, stressing the need of the church to fulfill missions to these peninsulas and island countries.

At the close of the lesson study a social hour was enjoyed and seasonal refreshments were served at tables beautifully decorated with arrangements of chrysanthemums by the hostess committee, Mrs. Warren Schleich, chairman, Mrs. Chester Clay, Mrs. Herbert Cockrell, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. N. M. Reif, Mrs. Morris Baker and Mrs. Ethel Caldwell.

Mrs. Carson Maddox, vice president, called the meeting to order and following the singing of a hymn Mrs. Milo Smith gave a beautiful tribute to Mrs. William Gosney, a member recently deceased.

Mrs. John E. Rhoads was devotional leader, reading Scripture from the Book of Job and offering prayer.

The usual reports were followed with roll call responded to by twenty-six members and special reports of 92 calls made during the past month were given by the members.

"Happy Birthday" was sung to members whose anniversaries are events of October and a substantial contribution was made to the Community Chest.

Mrs. John Prenat was welcomed as a new member and the meeting was adjourned.

During the social, Mrs. Frey conducted a flower contest and the award was presented to Mrs. Milo Smith.

Later refreshments suggestive of Halloween were served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mrs. John E. Rhoads, Mrs. Robert Blake and Mrs. Clara Lauderman.

MYF Groups Combine For Regular Meeting

A combined meeting of the Buena Vista and White Oak Grove M.Y.F. was held at White Oak Grove Church Sunday evening.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Ronnie Rockhold and the usual reports were given and approved.

The committee in charge of the evening "Hymn Sing" to be held at White Oak Grove Church Oct. 28 gave their report and final plans were made, with a large group expected since the public is invited and many churches have been asked to participate.

The revival meeting to be held starting November 4 was announced and the group was requested by the minister to assist in every way possible.

Members who had attended the district conference Sunday afternoon at Grace Methodist Church gave a report and the topic used by the speaker was discussed.

Ronnie Rockhold and Claudia Betz were in charge of the devotion, and the topic for the evening was "How and Why the Bible". Paul Stuckey led in prayer to close the meeting.

A combined meeting of the Buena Vista and White Oak Grove M.Y.F. was held at White Oak Grove Church Sunday evening.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Ronnie Rockhold and the usual reports were given and approved.

The committee in charge of the evening "Hymn Sing" to be held at White Oak Grove Church Oct. 28 gave their report and final plans were made, with a large group expected since the public is invited and many churches have been asked to participate.

The revival meeting to be held starting November 4 was announced and the group was requested by the minister to assist in every way possible.

Members who had attended the district conference Sunday afternoon at Grace Methodist Church gave a report and the topic used by the speaker was discussed.

Ronnie Rockhold and Claudia Betz were in charge of the devotions, and the topic for the evening was "How and Why the Bible". Paul Stuckey led in prayer to close the meeting.

Two Hostesses Entertain for Miss Kimmey

Mrs. Walter Parrett of the Leesburg Rd., and her daughter, Mrs. David Sheidler of Columbus, entertained at a miscellaneous shower Sunday afternoon at the banquet room at the Hotel Washington honoring Miss Nancy Kimmey whose marriage to Mr. Lee Eberst will be an event of November 3.

A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations for the party.

Contests were arranged by the hostesses for the pleasure of the guests and awards going to Mrs. Fred Shoop, Miss Bertha Graves and Mrs. Willard Armbrust were in turn presented to the bride-to-be.

Miss Kimmey opened her beautiful array of shower gifts at a table centered with a pink and white umbrella, arrangements of pink and white carnations and a bride and groom.

The gifts were graciously responded to and later refreshments further carrying out a pink and white color scheme featured individual cakes topped with pink sweet peas and ice cream, with favors of miniature chocolate umbrellas as favors for each guest.

The invited guest list included: Mrs. Myers Kimmey, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Leo Eberst, of Columbus, mother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. Lena Bandy, Mrs. Richard McLean, Mrs. Laura Chaney, daughter Janice, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mrs. Ronald Clay, Mrs. Harve Hammond, Mrs. Russell Riggs, Mrs. Sidney Bloomer, Mrs. William Chattin, Mrs. Frank Ellis, Mrs. Edward Cullen, Miss Mary Jo Cullen, Mrs. Eldon Evans, Mrs. Arthur Pyley, Mrs. Fred Shoop, Mrs. Walter McLean, Mrs. Marion Rife, Misses Bertha and Metta Graves, Mrs. Willard Armbrust, Mrs. Jack West, Mrs. Milton Panzlau, Miss Minnie Graves, Mrs. Earl Keith, Mrs. Clara Carr, Miss Mildred Moss, Mrs. B. H. Crouse, Mrs. Virgil Jennings, Mrs. Melbourne Barney, all of this community.

Misses Ruth and Joyce Bandy, of Dayton, Mrs. Ralph Wilson of Sabina, Mrs. Ralph Barger of Madison Mills, and Mrs. George Smith of Jeffersonville.

Sorority Plans Coming Events At Meeting

At a meeting of Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, held at the home of Mrs. Virgil Lowe, Mrs. Harry Fichtorn, vice president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. John Richards.

The opening ritual was followed with the usual reports which were approved and a substantial contribution was made to the Community Chest.

A report was also given on the progress of the "Travelling Basket" which is the current project of the chapter.

A "Santa's Helper Party" was planned in conjunction with Xi Beta Psi chapter and will be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Jennings on Nov. 19, when toys will be on display, for purchase.

The time allotted to the program was devoted to study of the manual of the chapter and the meeting was adjourned.

During the social hour Mrs. Lowe was assisted by Mrs. William Williams and Mrs. Joe Rush in the serving of light refreshments.

The next meeting on Nov. 5 will be held at the home of Mrs. Joe Rush which will include formal initiation of new pledges.

Ex-Ike Aide Opens Campaign

Third Party Chief Says
Dems, GOP Socialistic

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — T. Coleman Andrews, who served for three years as chief tax collector of the Eisenhower administration, set out today to present his own presidential candidacy as "a new home for the orphaned members of both the old parties."

The 57-year-old Richmond conservative was designated to carry the States Rights-tax reform third party banner at a whooping rally here Monday night.

Andrews and his running mate, former Republican Congressman Thomas H. Werdel of Bakersfield, Calif., are on the ballots in 14 states. In Virginia, at least, where both major parties regard the outcome of the election doubtful, Andrews' candidacy could tip the result one way or the other. Virginia went for Eisenhower in 1952 by an 80,000-vote margin.

The former tax chief, an Eisenhower Democrat in 1952, told some 3,000 supporters Monday night he didn't know whether his candidacy would draw strength mainly from President Eisenhower or Adlai Stevenson.

"BUT I DO know it wouldn't make any difference which of the two old parties won because we would have a continuation of socialistic government in either case," he said.

Andrews, Werdel and other speakers — notably Clarence E. Manion, former dean of the Notre Dame Law School and co-chairman of the National Andrews-Werdel Committee—received frequent cheers with their sharply worded attacks on Democrats and Republicans alike.

Demands for the federal government to leave the states free to operate their schools as they saw fit won the loudest applause and the heaviest boos went to Chief Justice Earl Warren. Andrews referred to Warren as "the great Republican chief justice and integrationist, Earl Warren."

Andrews said it was absurd to say nothing could be done about the income tax or that the country needed a $70 billion budget.

Ike's Integrity

see in President Eisenhower the same homely virtues the American people saw in Abraham Lincoln," he added.

"The money changers HAVE been driven from the temple, and Eisenhower did it," Butz said.

BRIEFLY reviewing the administration's "principle-above-politics" approach to sound solutions for today's problems, Butz warned that it is necessary to send to Congress those men who will back the Eisenhower program. "The present Congress has been one of harassment," the speaker said, emphasizing the importance of a Republican-organized legislative body to the Eisenhower program.

HERE'S THE NEW RAMBLER—To emphasize compactness and economy, will be available in both a V-8 and "six" series when the line goes on sale Oct. 25 at Nash and Hudson dealerships. The new V-8 develops 190 horsepower, while the economy champion six-cylinder engine has been boosted to 125. A power option on the "six" increases the horsepower to 135. Shown is the Rambler Cross Country hardtop station wagon. The Meriweather Motor Co., 1120 Clinton Ave., is the Washington C. H. representative.

Agreeing that the world is in a state of "uneasy peace," Butz declared that the President, who seeks neither added honors, prestige or power, is motivated in his second-term bid by a "burning desire to promote world peace."

Continuing, the speaker said: "He knows the hellishness of war, and his administration has made a good start toward world peace."

Calling attention to the "most widespread prosperity the country has ever had," Butz cited record high wages, a halt in the erosion of inflation, the high purchasing power of the dollar and record construction of schools and factories.

TURNING to the farm situation, which he said the Democrats are painting out of all true proportions for want of real campaign issues, the assistant secretary admitted that agriculture has been in a difficult period of readjustment for the past nine years, but he observed that the decline in farm prices has been halted (they are 6 per cent higher than last December) and that net farm income is up by a billion dollars over last year. "The direction has changed under this administration," Butz said.

The speaker pointed out that the Eisenhower farm policies are not based on "wild promises" but are geared for a many-sided, sound approach to a difficult situation. He cited the Rural Development Program, the Soil Bank, social security for farmers and a tremendous increase in agricultural research among the administration's efforts toward a sounder rural economy.

"We are moving in the direction of a prosperous agriculture, freed of controls," the speaker said.

MISS GARNET HUSTON, president of the Republican Women's Club, opened and closed the meeting.

Introduction of candidates immediately followed the dinner. In addition to county candidates, the group included Albert L. Daniels, Greenfield, seeking the Sixth District congressional seat; Powell Fess, Yellow Springs, candidate for the Ohio Senate, and representatives of several state candidates.

Among the guests were A. B. Evans, Cedarville, member of President Eisenhower's agricultural advisory committee and chairman of the Ohio Republicans' farm division; John Evans, Mechanics-burg, executive secretary of the Ohio GOP farm organization, and Mrs. Madeline Hoyt, Chillicothe, district committeewoman.

Mrs. Ben Hummel, Washington C. H., sang several numbers during the evening.

A committee composed of Daniels, Fess, Brandenburg and James Perrill, vice chairman of the Fayette Republican Central Committee, brought Butz here from Cincinnati Monday. An informal reception and press conference at the Hotel Washington preceded his address.

Grace Methodist Host to Young People of District

Grace Methodist Church was host to approximately 800 young people of Wilmington District, Sunday. Advance registrations of 650 were made and many came who had not pre-registered.

The sanctuary of the church was packed and it was necessary to bring in extra chairs to accommodate the crowd.

Douglas Rider, Phil French, Tom Swaim and Webb Ellis took part in the evening meeting. The speaker was Dr. Clair L. Warden, pastor of the Methodist Church in Oxford, Marian Christopher was organist and Bob Neumann, soloist. Adults who helped served the box lunch supper were Mrs. Emory Lynch, Dr. Charles M. Piersick, Mr. and Mrs. Joe White, Mrs. Gilbert Course, Mr. and Mrs.

"Ah-h-h...beer at its golden best!"

How come Hudepohl tastes so extra friendly and refreshing when you're extra thirsty? Is it Hudepohl's premium ingredients? Or the special blend of hops? Or the longer old-world aging? They're all important reasons. But even more important is our costlier step in brewing called Process 14-K. For it's this remarkable finishing process that adds the final brilliant touch to Hudepohl's famous flavor.

Look for this seal. It's your guarantee of beer at its golden best...of purity, brilliance and genuine satisfaction in every drop.

'Alfalfa Bill' Murray Dies At Age of 86

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Willi a m. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, Oklahoma's ninth governor who campaigned unsuccessfully for the 1932 Democratic presidential nomination on a platform of "bread and butter, beans and bacon," died Monday.

The 86-year-old cigar-chewing pioneer, framer of the young state's constitution, died in a coma after a five-day battle against double pneumonia and the after-effects of a stroke.

At his bedside at death were two of his three sons, former Oklahoma Gov. Johnston Murray and Burbank Murray, Milwaukee, Wis.

Noted for his individuality — in both political and private life — the shaggy, frank-spoken Murray faced all his adversaries with an iron determination.

During his four years in office, he called out the state National Guard on the average of every 45 days. He used the guard to force Texas to drop toll charges of a bridge between the two states.

He served as governor from 1931 to 1935, then made another try — his fourth — for the post in 1938, but ran afoul of President Franklin Roosevelt.

He won election to the U.S. House of Representatives for one term in 1934. After his 1938 defeat, Murray retired to write several books on government, politics and history.

Dairymen Set To Battle for Price Boost

CLEVELAND (AP)—The president of the Ohio Dairy Farmers Bargaining Assn., demanding a $6.60 a hundredweight price on fluid milk, said Monday the group is to get it.

Meeting with six Cleveland milk handlers, Joe Brown, a Jefferson dairyman, declared:

"The dairy farmer is going to have more money if he is to stay in business. He's going to get it, or he's going to tie up the market, and I'll guarantee he can."

Brown said a similar get-acquainted meeting with the Canton milk handlers will be held Monday in Canton.

The handlers who attended Monday's meeting left without comment after hearing Brown's demands.

Wreck Victims Leave Hospital

James M. Cunningham, 17, of Greenfield, on leave from the Moody Air Force Base at Valdosta, Ga., and Wanda E. Green, 19, also of Greenfield, were treated in Greenfield Hospital for injuries received when their car left the highway and crashed through a fence on Route 70 just south of Blue Rock Quarries, early Sunday. Both have been released.

The car, owned by J. E. Cunningham, was virtually demolished. Sheriff Orland Hays said Cunningham told him his car was hit by a pickup truck as he passed it. The truck did not stop, he said. The sheriff said no charges would be filed against Cunningham.

Cunningham received facial injuries and Miss Green injuries about the head and arms.

Mitchell L. Vanhoose, 30, Springfield, wrecked his car Saturday night when he broke off a telephone pole and tore down seven panels of fence on the Delbert Carr farm on Route 35. He told Sheriff Hays he lost control of his car when a tire blew out.

He agreed to pay for the damages to the pole and fence and was not held.

Woman in Buggy Killed by Truck

WOOSTER (AP)—A 68-year-old woman was killed Monday when the horse-drawn buggy she was driving was struck from behind by a tractor-trailer truck in nearby Riceland, Wayne County.

Police identified the woman as Mrs. Elizabeth Hershberger of Jackson Center, Pa.

Xenia Police Officer Shot By Robber

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Police today held Zettie Adkins, about 30, of nearby Wrights View, in connection with the shooting of a police officer during a robbery here Monday night.

The policeman, Sgt. T. B. Devoe, 37, was reported in serious condition in Green Memorial Hospital.

Marshall Grange Plans Booster Night Program

Marshall Grange, Jeffersonville, is making plans for a Booster program on Friday night, Oct. 19. A covered dish supper is planned at 7 p. m.

Entertainment, including music, will follow the supper.

Adkins took $250 from the cash register of a local bar and grill and was taking valuables from customers when Devoe entered, gun drawn, and ordered him to drop his weapon.

Instead, Adkins whirled and fired and ran toward Devoe. The policeman, although shot, wrestled Adkins to the floor where the patrons disarmed him. An off-duty policeman, Sgt. C. K. Elliott, and State Highway Patrolman Arthur Roberts were attracted to the bar by the shots and helped arrest Adkins.

The man was held in city jail. He was not charged immediately.

Freak Mishap Fatal

NEWARK (AP)—Tudor Brown, 57, died Monday after burning trash at the rear of his home here. Police said a metal fragment from a burst shaving cream can pierced Brown's right leg and severed an artery.

'Alfalfa Bill' Murray Dies At Age of 86

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—Willi a m H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray, Oklahoma's ninth governor who campaigned unsuccessfully for the 1932 Democratic presidential nomination on a platform of "bread and butter, beans and bacon," died Monday.

The 86-year-old cigar-chewing pioneer, framer of the young state's constitution, died in a coma after a five-day battle against double pneumonia and the after-effects of a stroke.

At his bedside at death were two of his three sons, former Oklahoma Gov. Johnston Murray and Burbank Murray, Milwaukee, Wis.

Noted for his individuality — in both political and private life — the shaggy, frank-spoken Murray faced all his adversaries with an iron determination.

During his four years in office, he called out the state National Guard on the average of every 45 days. He used the guard to force Texas to drop toll charges of a bridge between the two states.

He served as governor from 1931 to 1935, then made another try — his fourth — for the post in 1938, but ran afoul of President Franklin Roosevelt.

The policeman, Sgt. T. B. Devoe, 37, was reported in serious condition in Green Memorial Hospital after being hit four times with a .45 caliber gun. He was wounded in the chest and in both hips but managed to subdue Adkins until other officers arrived, said Police Capt. George Anderson.

The captain reconstructed the crime this way:

Adkins took $250 from the cash register of a local bar and grill and was taking valuables from customers when Devoe entered, gun drawn, and ordered him to drop his weapon.

Instead, Adkins whirled and fired and ran toward Devoe. The policeman, although shot, wrestled Adkins to the floor where the patrons disarmed him. An off-duty policeman, Sgt. C. K. Elliott, and

Movies Spur Lions' Quest for Victory

Films of the Washington-Hillsboro game, shown Monday night, were an added incentive to the Washington Lions to get out and beat Wilmington's Hurricane this weekend.

Tuesday afternoon is set up for heavy defensive work. Head Coach Fred Domenico has some plans for improving the defense. "I'm going to shake things up a little. May change the whole defense around."

The main difference between a winning and losing defense, though, the coach feels, is "a desire to fight. I don't care what formation or strategy we worked out for them, if the boys don't want to stop the other team, if they let themselves get taken out of a play, then we just can't do the job."

Defensive end and tackle slots are in jeopardy at this point after the Hillsboro performance. Domenico feels a little switching around might help.

THE INJURIES sustained in the Hillsboro game are beginning to work themselves out now. Guard Jim Wilson, with a bad shoulder, didn't see any action at all Monday night.

4 Losses May Not Harm Club

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coach Paul Brown, whose championship football team has dropped two out of three starts this season, says that a team with four losses might win the Eastern Division title.

"I believe a record of eight victories and four defeats will do it," said the coach of the Cleveland Browns, winners last year of the National Football League crown. "This division probably is better balanced than it's ever been."

The Browns are preparing for their next contest with Washington, which has dropped all three of its games this year.

Brown was skeptical about a report from New York that the Giants, who beat the Browns 21-9 last Sunday, had intercepted radio instructions which the coach sent to quarterback George Ratterman.

Ray Walsh, general manager of the Browns, said Monday that the Browns stopped using the radio after the New Yorkers had listened in and smeared some of the Cleveland plays.

Brown said that actually the radio was used for only "one or two" plays and after that it was ignored, because the crowd of more than 60,000 fans made so much noise Ratterman had trouble hearing the instructions.

Former WHS Star Scores on 58-Yard Run for Tennessee

Carl Smith got loose in the gridiron at Knoxville Saturday and displayed the form he showed during his high school days here.

Now in his sophomore year at the University of Tennessee, Smith broke loose over tackle and went 58 yards to score for the Volunteers against the University of Chattanooga.

In the game Saturday, Smith carried the ball 5 times and gained 73 yards. He also kicked one point after touchdown, to help insure the 42 to 20 Vol victory.

Newspaper reports from Knoxville stated "Tennessee partisans got what they wanted to see when Smith, the powerful running sophomore from Washington C. H., Ohio, smashed left tackle and outran the Chattanooga defense for 58 yards to score the Vols fifth touchdown. Smith's run wasn't the twisting side-stepping type. The big fellow simply got out front and left everybody behind."

Tennessee is undefeated this season having beat Auburn 35-7 and Duke 33-20 previously.

Next Saturday the Vols meet Alabama at Knoxville.

Gus Bell of the Cincinnati Redlegs has hit three straight homers in the last two seasons. He did it in Chicago in 1956 and in Philadelphia in 1955.

The New York Giants of 1933 won 91 games in taking the National League pennant. Two years later they won the same number but finished third.

Hart Shows Form Like Early 'Sugar'

NEW YORK (AP) — It's easy to see why they call Garnett Hart "Sugar."

He looks like Sugar Ray Robinson of 15 years back and he fights like the slick Robinson when Ray first came up.

That's on the basis of his eye-catching third-round technical knockout of tough, chunky Earl Dennis here Monday night.

It was the slender, 21-year-old Philadelphia's ninth consecutive victory and his 17th in 18 bouts.

Redlegs Purchase Righthand Hurler

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs today announced purchase of John Brechin, 26-year-old righthanded pitcher from Nashville of the Southern Assn.

Brechin won 11 games and lost 10 last season, appearing in 35 games. He was discharged from the Navy last February and trained with the Redlegs in the spring before joining Nashville.

Patterson Due To Test Old Archie Moore

CHICAGO (AP) — Young Floyd Patterson and old Archie Moore will meet in Chicago Stadium Nov. 30 for the heavyweight title vacated by Rocky Marciano.

The International Boxing Club Monday announced plans for the fight but said financial arrangements for the 15-round bout will be ironed out in a formal ceremony in Chicago next week.

Jim Norris, president of the IBC, said in New York that negotiations on home television and theater television were underway. The fact that the fight will be on a Friday, one of the two days a week the IBC broadcasts and telecasts network fights, was taken as indication that there will be home television.

Both fighters have already started training. The IBC said, with Patterson at Greenwood Lake, N.Y., and Moore at Lakeside, Calif. Both have agreed to be in Chicago three weeks before the fight to complete training.

Originally the contest had been

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It all started with the new "Inner Ford." When Ford engineers planned this baby, they didn't just think in terms of new springs, new brakes, new axles. They thought in terms of a car through-and-through new.

The wheels got smaller. Yes, this new Ford is so new in every detail that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader for a better grip on the road, they help you take off quickly . . . give you a better ride.

The wheelbase got longer . . . so now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one that's over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable riding platform . . . a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives you is the closest you'll ever come to coasting on velvet-covered clouds. And that holds true on back roads, too!

The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has new swept-back front suspension that works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. This new kind of Ford is packed with Thunderbird GO! It offers a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need . . . plus a new version of the famous Mileage Maker Six.

"Six or V-8 the going is great!"

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body ever built for a low-priced car. And no car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. Ford gives you the longest, lowest, low-priced car ever. Each graceful contour of its sculptured-in-steel body says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! Example: all Fairlane models, including sedans, have the look

Movies Spur Lions' Quest for Victory

Films of the Washington-Hillsboro game, shown Monday night, were an added incentive to the Washington Lions to get out and beat Wilmington's Hurricane this weekend.

Tuesday afternoon is set up for heavy defensive work. Head Coach Fred Domenico has some plans for improving the defense. "I'm going to shake things up a little. May change the whole defense around."

The main difference between a winning and losing defense, though, the coach feels, is "a desire to fight. I don't care what formation or strategy we worked out for them, if the boys don't want to stop the other team, if they let themselves get taken out of a play, then we just can't do the job."

Defensive end and tackle slots are in jeopardy at this point after the Hillsboro performance. Domenico feels a little switching around might help.

THE INJURIES sustained in the Hillsboro game are beginning to work themselves out now. Guard Jim Wilson, with a bad shoulder, didn't see any action at all Monday

4 Losses May Not Harm Club

CLEVELAND (A) — Coach Paul Brown, whose championship football team has dropped two out of three starts this season, says that a team with four losses might win the Eastern Division title.

"I believe a record of eight victories and four defeats will do it," said the coach of the Cleveland Browns, winners last year of the National Football League crown.

"This division probably is better balanced than it's ever been," the Browns are preparing for their next contest with Washington, which has dropped all three of its games this year.

Brown was skeptical about a report from New York that the Giants, who beat the Browns 21-9 last Sunday, had intercepted radio instructions which the coach sent to quarterback George Ratterman.

Ray Walsh, general manager of the Browns, said Monday that the Browns stopped using the radio after the New Yorkers had listened in and smeared some of the Cleveland plays.

Brown said that actually the radio was used for only "one or two" plays and after that it was ignored, because the crowd of more than 60,000 fans made so much noise Ratterman had trouble hearing the instructions.

Former WHS Star Scores on 58-Yard Run for Tennessee

Carl Smith got loose in the gridiron at Knoxville Saturday and displayed the form he showed during his high school days here.

Now in his sophomore year at the University of Tennessee, Smith broke loose over tackle and went 58 yards to score for the Volunteers against the University of Chattanooga.

In the game Saturday, Smith carried the ball 5 times and gained 73 yards. He also kicked one point after touchdown, to help insure the 42 to 20 Vol victory.

Newspaper reports from Knoxville stated "Tennessee partisans got what they wanted to see when Smith, the powerful running sophomore from Washington C. H., Ohio, smashed left tackle and outran the Chattanooga defense for 58 yards to score the Vols fifth touchdown. Smith's run wasn't the twisting side-stepping type. The big fellow simply got out front and left everybody behind."

Both coaches were high in their praise of Smith. Chattanooga Coach A. C. (Scrappy) Moore said: They (the Vols) have good deception and plenty of power in those two fullbacks, Bronson and Smith." Bowden Wyatt, Tennessee coach, said: "I was especially pleased with our fullbacks."

Church School Chieftains Scheduled for Ohio Parley

COLUMBUS—Church school superintendents from throughout Ohio will attend the Ohio Church School Superintendents Conference at the Youth Center at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Oct. 26 to 28.

Sponsored by the Department of Christian Education of the Ohio Council of Churches, the conference will be the first of its kind in this state. Each church is asked to send its superintendent for training in methods of recruiting and training church school teachers, new methods in religious education, and to share ideas and plans with other church workers.

Leaders will include Dr. Earl Cunningham of the Board of Christian Education of the Methodist Church; Dr. Lee Gable, professor of Christian education at the Evangelical and Reformed Seminary in Pennsylvania; and Dr. Virgil Foster, editor of the International Journal of Religious Education.

In addition to general sessions, there will be three discussion periods in which the superintendents will share ideas, plans and problems, and gain new ideas for doing a better job in their church schools.

Registration will begin on Oct.

Hospital Board To Study Needed Improvements

Additional Facilities To Meet Emergencies Under Consideration

A number of matters concerning needed early improvements in upkeep and maintenance were brought to the attention of the board of trustees of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital by Miss Christine Evans, administrator, at their regular monthly meeting Monday night.

THE MATTERS DEAL with possible changes of certain facilities within the hospital to meet arising new conditions, faced by all modern hospitals, and demands by the public for additional services. Some deal with preparedness in the event of unusual emergencies which could occur in case of sudden failure of light, power, water, pumping breakdowns and other conditions. Some may never happen, but all hospitals are being urged by the state and national hospital associations to be ready to meet such conditions at any time.

To follow these recommendations will require additional equipment in the hospital here amounting to several thousand dollars. The board members have taken these matters under advisement and for further study.

The report on local hospital operation for the month of September was presented to the board by Miss Evans.

IT SHOWED 259 total admissions for the month and in addition 65 newborn infants, including four sets of twins, with a total of 1,890 service days for patients.

During the month the greatest number of patients in any one day was 78, the smallest 55. Major operations in surgery numbered 50, minor operations 41. Laboratory examinations totaled 2028 and X-ray films taken numbered 759.

The hospital's laundry turned out 32,146 pounds of work and a total of 7,413 meals were served in the institution.

The number of out-patients treated, those not requiring rooms and beds, was 420.

The hospital's income showed a slight profit for the month, in its operations, not counting depreciation. The board approved the report.

Now Maybe Ike Hasn't Uttered His 'Last Word'

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House press secretary James Hagerty said today that President Eisenhower may not have meant it to be quite so final as it sounded when he said last Thursday that he had uttered his "last word" regarding Adlai Stevenson's proposals that (1) thought be given to ending the military draft "in the foreseeable future" and that (2) an effort be made to halt H-bomb testing.

Hagerty said that "the President's hope was that those matters would not become the subject of partisan political debate. However, I am sure that if misstatements are made, particularly in connection with testing, the President will feel he has a duty to keep the record straight."

Adlai Says Ike

He summoned Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.), chairman of a special Senate Armed Services subcommittee, to testify in support of his contention that no harm would result to America's defenses by such a move. Stevenson said Eisenhower had implied "his proposal would somehow reduce or curtail power to defend ourselves," adding, "It would not."

STEVENSON gave the nation a preview of what might happen if H-bomb warfare breaks out.

He began with the premise that a single H-bomb could "destroy the largest city in the world."

"If every man, woman and child on earth were each carrying a 16-pound bundle of dynamite—enough to blow him to smithereens and then some—the destructive force in their arms would be equal to the force of one 20-megaton hydrogen bomb, which has already been exploded," he said.

He said that every time an H-bomb is exploded in a test "huge quantities of radioactive material are pumped into the air currents of the world at all altitudes—later to fall to earth."

"I do not wish to be an alarmist and I am not asserting that present levels of radioactivity are dangerous," he continued. "Scientists do not know how dangerous the threat is. But they know the threat will increase if we go on testing."

Stevenson said the United States could proceed to test a bomb in eight weeks if any nation broke an agreement to halt such trials.

for discussion at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Assn., at the Rose Avenue School at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday.

School Board Member William Lovell will be there to discuss and explain the issue and the levy proposals to the PTA.

The meeting is open to the public and especially the parents of pre-school children.

Portsmouth Phone

(Continued from Page One) "There is nothing we can do," Uncle said Brown and New Boston policemen stood by and saw the crowd hurl the phones but took no action.

The patrol then advised the company to close the exchange after escorting five operators from the building. One operator, James Pfroemer, was hit with a brick and suffered head cuts.

About 200 persons then went to the Portsmouth exchange where Col. George Mingle, state highway patrol superintendent, lined up about 24 of his men on the sidewalk in front of the exchange. About a dozen Portsmouth policemen joined them.

Uncle said the crowd threatened to storm the exchange and drag out the personnel inside—nine women and one man. They proceeded to throw missiles at the building.

Portsmouth Police Chief Hugh Ruddy said he called Ray White, secretary to Gov. Frank J. Lausche, and that White had suggested the company also close the Portsmouth exchange. This was done.

MEANWHILE, police escorted out the people inside. There was no trouble when this was done, Uncle said.

The crowd then went to the Etti Mar Motel on Portsmouth's east side where 24 company employees were staying. But before the crowd got there, police arrived and put the company personnel in cruisers.

As a safety precaution, police also took company personnel from the downtown LaSalle Hotel here and put them in cruisers. The crowd, meanwhile, drifted to the Sciotoville exchange, but police got there ahead of them and took out five people working there.

Col. Mingle indicated he will withdraw his some 60 state patrolmen from the city today. Under state statute, the patrol can't interfere in labor difficulties. Its jurisdiction covers only crimes perpetrated on streets and highways.

Col. Mingle told one group: "The state highway patrol is not going to be used to break this strike. Our job simply is to protect people and property."

Gov. Lausche had suggested that Scioto County enforcement agencies deputize the state patrolmen. But Sid Griffith, a company attorney, said a legal technicality had prevented this. Griffith said the technicality is that the patrolmen are not residents of the county and therefore can't be deputized.

Scioto County phone service was blacked out last Friday following similar demonstrations at company exchanges the night before.

AFTER GOV. LAUSCHE ordered state patrolmen into the area, service was resumed.

It was the third time in less than a month that Portsmouth phone service was cut off. The first occasion was a three-day blackout beginning Sept. 18 after five company supervisors were attacked by a group of some 30 men while they repaired damaged cables.

The New Boston exchange has been closed down intermittently since Aug. 16 after violence there.

The striking Communications Workers of America has consistently denied knowledge of who has committed the violence and vandalism that has marked the three-month-long strike.

Meanwhile, company representatives and negotiators for the Communications Workers of America announced they would resume talks Wednesday in another effort to end the 94-day-old strike.

Homer H. Hickling, chief deputy legal administrator of the state industrial commission, said a commission hearing in Columbus will begin as scheduled Wednesday even though only the union has promised to be represented.

"The proceedings will not specifically be a negotiations but a fact-finding hearing," Hickling said.

Four Fines Suspended In Municipal Court

Four $5 fines and the costs in one case were suspended by Judge Max G. Dice at Monday's relatively short session of Municipal Court. All of them were for traffic law violations.

Howard Charles West, 49, of 1018 Rawlings St., was fined $5 and costs for driving without a permit and another $5 and costs for failure to stop at a stop sign. Both fines, and the costs in the first case, were suspended.

Joseph H. Merritt, 57, of 724 N. North St. was fined $5 and costs for running a stop sign, but the $5 fine was suspended.

Roger Sexton, picked up by the Highway Patrol, was fined $5 and costs for not having required turn signals on his car, but the fine was suspended.

Costs in the city cases amount to $8.70 and the Highway Patrol case $7.70; so, while no fines were paid, the three drivers paid a total of $25.10 in costs.

The other two cases before the court were both on affidavits by the Highway Patrol.

Owen O. Henderson drew $10 and costs for crossing the yellow line on Route 35 in Jefferson Twp. and Richard Poole, charged with speeding 75 mph on Route 62 in Union Twp., forfeited $20 bond.

Miami Trace Group Reviews Campaign

Approximately 130 residents of the Miami Trace School District met at Wilson School Monday night to review progress of the $1,652,500 bond issue campaign and for a consultation with the architect on plans for the proposed district high school at Eber.

John S. Kline, Springfield, the architect, discussed specifications for the building with the group during a question and answer session.

"For that reason we can go ahead with just one party present," the company has refused to attend the session.

The strike began last July 15 when the company-union contract expired. Some 18 issues, primarily job classification, a no strike clause, arbitration and a union shop are reportedly blocking agreement on a new contract.

Rodgers Chapel Pastor Moving To Pennsylvania

The Rev. Charles Johnson, of Rodgers Chapel AME Church here, has been transferred to Wilkingsburg, Pa., and will begin his duties there next week.

He was transferred to St. Mark's AME Church there by action of the South Ohio Annual Conference at Hamilton recently. The Wilkingsburg congregation is much larger than the one here.

During his four-year stay here, Mr. Johnson added 48 new members to the congregation of Rodgers Chapel. A great many new improvements were made on the church rectory, rewiring, reheat, redecoration of the basement and new front doors.

While pastor here, Mr. Johnson worked for Dayton Aircraft Products as a machinist and plastic worker.

He has been active in the Fayette County Ministerial Assn. and served as its president for the past six months.

Weekend Camporee For Scouts Cancelled

A big Boy Scout Camporee for 140-200 boys at Rocky Fork Lake in Highland County this weekend was called off at a meeting of Fayette District committeemen Monday night because the date conflicted with the first Saturday of duck hunting season.

Plans were practically completed when the committee was reminded of the conflict. Duck season opened Monday and a swarm of hunters expected to invade all likely hunting areas. The lake is one of them.

The camporee was planned for boys from Fayette County and Highland County Scout troops. The troops have been told they may go on with plans for their own if they still wish to have outings.

Fayette County Game Protector Dave Krupla said, however, that open areas would be dangerous too, since grouse season begins Monday.

Plan Special Course For Holiday Clerks

A sales training program for extra Christmas employees will be the No. 1 topic at a meeting of the Washington C. H. Retail Merchants Assn., in the Chamber of Commerce office at 10 a. m. Wednesday.

The program is offered to retail merchants by the Distributive Education Division of the Ohio Department of Education. The division will provide instructors for three two-hour sessions if the merchants choose to make use of the service.

A representative from the Distributive Education will be at the meeting to explain details of the program. Ward Miller of the Ohio State Employment office here and W. A. Smith, superintendent of city schools, will attend the meeting. The city has agreed to provide a classroom in the high school for the training program.

The cost of the program is a 50 cent registration fee per student.

The three sessions will center on salesmanship, stockkeeping, store arithmetic, store rules and regulations, cash register operation and change making.

William Stoughton, Chamber of Commerce manager, has been in charge of coordinating preliminary plans for the program.

Guy Conklin Ends Life with Pistol

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Powers Funeral Home, Jamestown, for Guy Conklin, 67, who ended his life with a 22-calibre pistol at his home in New Jasper, Greene County, Sunday evening.

He had been in ill health for five years and had been despondent.

His body, clad in a robe and pajamas, was found by his wife, Ruth, in the bedroom of their home.

Mr. Conklin had purchased the pistol in Jamestown Saturday, as other weapons in his home had been hidden by his wife who told of her husband's threats of suicide.

He was a retired farmer of the Bowersville community, and in addition to his wife, Mrs. Ruth Sheeley Conklin, leaves a sister, Mrs. Zora Stuton, Rochester, N. Y. He was well known in the Milledgeville community, where he had relatives. Interment will be made at Bowersville.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. Tuesday.

The committee meeting Monday was held in Washington C. H. in the Bell Telephone maintenance office.

Vandalism Reports Keep Police Busy

Police here today were turning their attention to vandalism after getting four reports of it in three days.

Chief Vaiden Long said it was impossible, at this stage, to say whether the four reports were connected or just coincidence. But, he added, "This can't go on and we are going to keep a sharper lookout for it."

He expressed doubt that it was related to Halloween.

Police received a report late Monday that six windows had been broken in the Washington Mortuary Co. plant, 238 S. Fayette St., sometime Sunday. Belief was expressed that they had been broken with shots from an air rifle.

This came in just after Russell Miller reported that glass in the window of the left door of his 1950 automobile had been broken while it was parked in front of his home, 1004 E. Temple St.

Saturday, police had found three city-owned lanterns that had been placed on Sycamore St. as a precautionary measure, smashed, and on Sunday they received a report of a window being broken in a car parked at 722 E. Temple St. by a BB shot.

Chief Long commented that "it's been a long time since anything like this has happened and with four reports in three days, we can't ignore it."

Ham-Sampling Burglar Steals Cash at Market

Police today are investigating a break-in at the Helfrich Market on Delaware St. some time Monday night or early Tuesday morning. Chief Vaiden Long said clues were meagre, but commented that "it must have been someone who likes ham."

A window in the slaughterhouse at the rear of the market was broken to gain entrance, Chief Long said. Once inside the building, the thief took pins from the hinges to open the door into the market.

So far as could be determined in an early check, the chief said, a cigar box containing $25 or $30 in nickels from the vending machines and some cigarettes were the only things taken.

A boiled ham, from which three big bites had been taken, was left behind.

Hospital Board To Study Needed Improvements

Additional Facilities
To Meet Emergencies
Under Consideration

A number of matters concerning needed early improvements in upkeep and maintenance were brought to the attention of the board of trustees of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital by Miss Christine Evans, administrator, at their regular monthly meeting Monday night.

THE MATTERS DEAL with possible changes of certain facilities within the hospital to meet arising new conditions, faced by all modern hospitals, and demands by the public for additional services. Some deal with preparedness in the event of unusual emergencies which could occur in case of sudden failure of light, power, water pumping breakdowns and other conditions. Some may never happen, but all hospitals are being urged by the state and national hospital associations to be ready to meet such conditions at any time.

To follow these recommendations will require additional equipment in the hospital here amounting to several thousand dollars. The board members have taken these matters under advisement and for further study.

The report on local hospital operation for the month of September was presented to the board by Miss Evans.

IT SHOWED 259 total admissions for the month and in addition 65 newborn infants, including four sets of twins, with a total of 1,890 service days for patients.

During the month the greatest number of patients in any one day was 78, the smallest 55. Major operations in surgery numbered 50, minor operations 41. Laboratory examinations totaled 2028 and X-ray films taken numbered 759.

The hospital's laundry turned out 32,146 pounds of work and a total of 7,413 meals were served in the institution.

The number of out-patients treated, those not requiring rooms and beds, was 420.

The hospital's income showed a slight profit for the month, in its operations, not counting depreciation. The board approved the report.

Now Maybe Ike Hasn't Uttered His 'Last Word'

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House press secretary James Hagerty said today that President Eisenhower may not have meant it to be quite so final as it sounded when he said last Thursday that he had uttered his "last word" regarding Adlai Stevenson's proposals that (1) thought be given to ending the military draft "in the foreseeable future" and that (2) an effort be made to halt H-bomb testing.

Hagerty said that "the President's hope was that those matters would not become the subject of partisan political debate. However, I am sure that if misstatements are made, particularly in connection with testing, the President will feel he has a duty to keep the record straight."

He summoned Sen.
